Clouds Of War Are Gathering

EASTERN EUROPE MENAGED AGAIN BY NEW STRIFE

War Scare Involves France, Belgium, Germany, Poland and Russia

SEEK GENERAL STRIKE

French Preparing to Advance 15 Miles Further Into Germany.

Amsterdam, Jan. 17.—French troops at Dortmund are preparing to advance 15 miles further to Hamm if the German mine owners in the Ruhr refuse to resume the delivery of reparations coal, said a dispatch from Dusseldorf today.

It is understood that the forward movement of the French will be resumed within 36 hours if the Germans persist in their refusal to turn over coal and coke to the allies.

Paris, Jan. 17.—German representatives, evidently acting on instructions from Berlin, refused today to appear before the inter-allied reparations commission to give information regarding Germany's failure to make reparations deliveries. The meeting set for today was postponed until Friday.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—Declaring that French invasion of the Ruhr endangers Europe with another war, Clara Zetkin, German communist; Karl Radek, of the Russian soviet government and J. T. W. Newbold, communist member of the British parliament, today called upon workers in London, Vienna, Amsterdam and other European capitals to arrange a general strike in protest.

It was suggested that the strikes begin the end of this month and "cover all Europe to show the strength of pacific labor."

Paris, Jan. 17.—War clouds gather over eastern Europe today while France was busily engaged in military activities in Germany. The war menace threatens to involve France, Belgium, Germany, Poland, Lithuania and Russia.

It was reported that Poland was mobilizing but subsequently this was officially denied from Warsaw. Poland has appealed to France for military assistance in event of war. This appeal was considered by the cabinet this morning. Alarming reports from the Baltic states and the Balkans are causing intense anxiety on the part of French officials.

Italy, becoming alarmed over the war scare in Southern Europe, is giving indications that she will withdraw her support of French occupation of the Ruhr and will line up with Great Britain; France is more interested in the situation at Memel than that in the Balkans. French officials say that seizure of Memel by Lithuania—a nation friendly to Russia—is equivalent to being a bridge directly from Russia to Germany. It virtually establishes an alliance between the two powers.

America Is Scored

The French newspaper L'Information, in commenting upon the eastern European war scare, said:

"Lithuania by seizing the neutral district at Memel and the city of Memel itself, is menacing Baltic peace. Where is the money coming from to maintain a big standing army in the little country of Lithuania? The answer is from America, the land of idealism. Money is refused France so long as she has a military budget. Now we know that Charly money has been sent to Lithuania has been converted into gun powder and machine guns."

Communists in central Europe, alarmed over the outlook for war are conferring actively to take preventive measures.

Russia has concentrated troops along the Polish frontier but Moscow denies any intention of hostility.

Poland has sent a gun boat to Memel and the Lithuanians are making formal protests against its presence there.

French officials admitted the prospect of a Polish attack against Lithuania adding that they would not be surprised to see Russia invade Poland if there was a Polish-Lithuanian clash. Poland and Lithuania have been at loggerheads for two years, or ever since Polish troops invaded Lithuania and seized Vilna, the capital. This territory was never restored.

ENGLAND ORDERS DEBT FUNDING COMMISSION LEADER TO RETURN

London, Jan. 17.—The British cabinet today advised Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer and head of the British debt funding commission at Washington to sail for home Saturday, if possible, to make a full report upon the negotiations for funding the $4,277,000,000 British debt.

The cabinet has advised Chancellor Baldwin to be hesitant in making an agreement which Britain may be unable to fulfill. The chancellor was warned that any agreement causing heavy British taxation would make the financial future of the country uncertain. The cabinet desires to hear details of America's attitude before Baldwin fully commits himself to a plan.

British officials do not anticipate an immediate settlement although they said they did not fear a deadlock upon the amount of interest Britain shall pay.

Washington, Jan. 17.—A temporary deadlock existed today between the British and American debt funding commissions.

Negotiations begun ten days ago, seeking a basis upon which the British can liquidate the five billion war debt were at a standstill, with the British waiting for a second batch of instructions from the British cabinet. It is Great Britain's next move. The American commission has put the British spokesman in the position of having to get authorization from their home office for further parley.

EIGHTEEN YEAR OLD GIRL SAID TO HAVE DISAPPEARED SUDDENLY

New York, Jan. 17.—Three days ago Miss Claire Rogers, 18-year-old cousin of Eugene O'Neill, the playwright, left Columbia university where she was a student, enroute to Riverside drive apartment of her aunt, and disappeared. William Rogers of Hartford, Conn., who came to New York and has been aiding in the search for his sister admitted that neither the police nor himself had any clue to her whereabouts. Not since Dorothy Arnold stepped from a luxurious home into oblivion have police been confronted with such a baffling problem.

"There is no reason why Claire should wish to disappear, unless it is something we know nothing of," her brother said.

TROOPS NOT NEEDED IN ARKANSAS FIELD

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 17.—Orders to company H. of the 141st anti-aircraft company of Arkansas national guard to entrain for Harrison, where a tense situation had been created through terrorist methods against the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad, were recalled today.

The troops were to have left here at 9 o'clock last night, but delay in preparations caused the time to be changed to 7 o'clock this morning. Shortly before then, however, the sheriff at Harrison wired Governor MacRae the situation was in hand and that troops were not needed.

Columbus, Jan. 17.—Members of the Ohio general assembly joined with Governor Donahey and his cabinet, other newly elected state officials and members of the supreme court in attending a dinner given last night in their honor by the Columbus chamber of commerce at the Deshler hotel. BRITAIN TO ASK AMERICA'S HELP TO PREVENT WAR

Law Likely to Propose Means to Intervene In Trouble

BECOMING ALARMED

"On to Berlin" is Cry of French Officers at Essen

London, Jan. 17.—Co-operation and intervention by the United States and Great Britain to settle the German reparations problem and to prevent French occupation of the Rhineland from leading to another war, may be proposed by Premier A. Bonar Law if a favorable opportunity comes, it was learned from official sources today.

Premier Bonar Law is said to be getting alarmed over the continued advance of the French troops through Germany in the direction of Berlin. He would welcome a move by the United States for Anglo-American co-operation and would lose no time in accepting such an invitation officials said.

For the time being Great Britain will play the role of observer, while standing aloof from French and Belgian activities. But in the meantime officialdom will remain vigilantly alert for an opening to propose joint action with America.

Four German mine owners in the Ruhr including August Thyssen, coal and iron magnate, have been notified by Gen. DeGoutte to consider themselves under arrest for refusing to deliver coal from their mines to the allies, according to an unconfirmed dispatch from Germany.

Both German officials and French army officers at Essen, ridiculed with laughter a rumor circulated outside of Germany that an army of 25,000 German military policemen has been mobilized north of Dortmund.

"On to Berlin," is becoming the cry of French officers, in view of the persistent hostility of the coal and iron magnates. French officers said that they would have no hesitation in arresting the mine owners and that they believed this action would be followed by orders from Paris to continue the advance in the direction of the German capital.

PLANT IS DESTROYED BY FIRE WEDNESDAY

Canton, Ohio, Jan. 17.—Fire starting from unknown origin completely destroyed the G. A. Swineford and Sons Agricultural implement plant here early today, causing a loss of $125,000, partially covered by insurance. The blaze occurred at 2:30 o'clock at the height of a raging blizzard and firemen fought the fire under the greatest difficulty.

A general alarm sent all apparatus in the city to the scene to prevent the spread of the blaze to adjoining plants. Firemen were coated with ice and several of them were forced to abandon the battle because of exhaustion and exposure. Fire Chief Mesnar was removed to his home with a badly injured leg, received when he fell from an ice covered lumber pile from which he was directing the fight to prevent spread of the fire.

WOULD REQUIRE WAR REFERENDUM

Washington, Jan. 17.—A constitutional amendment requiring a referendum before a declaration of war was proposed by Representative Winifred Mason Huck (Rep., Ill.) in her first address in the house. Mrs. Huck's proposal would authorize the president to inform the world that the United States is ready to declare war on condition that other nations do likewise.

"Women are opposed to war and never intend to rest until universal peace is established," Mrs. Huck said. "We want other laws dealing with woman's welfare, but universal peace is foremost. History shows that the concentration of power in the hands of one man has caused most of the wars."

WHOLE SECTION OF BALTIMORE IN FIRE'S PATH

Clothing Warehouse Destroyed Before Firemen Check Big Blaze

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 17.—Fire early this morning destroyed the large clothing warehouse in Hopkins Place and for a time threatened the entire wholesale district. The building was occupied by the Wear-Well Pants Company. Several hundred thousand dollars worth of goods were stored in the building.

It was in the same block in which the great fire of 1904 started—in the heart of the wholesale clothing and dry goods district.

The loss was put at $496,000 and it was not until about 8:30 that the firemen began returning to their home stations.

JUDGE PECK GIVES UP HIS POSITION

Cincinnati, Jan. 17.—Judge John Weld Peck, U. S. District Judge for the southern Ohio district, has tendered his resignation to President Harding, giving as his reason a desire to return to private practice. The resignation comes as a complete surprise. Speculation is rife today as to his successor, those most prominently mentioned being Comen Pleas Judge Thomas H. Darby, Robert E. Nevin, of Dayton, Ohio, and Col. Benson Hough, Delaware. The latter also has been mentioned for the U. S. district attorneyship here. In the event he is appointed to the judgeship, it is predicted Haveth E. Mau, of Dayton will get the attorneyship plumb.

YOUNGSTERS TRAPPED IN BURNING HOME AS PARENTS QUARRELING

Husband Said to Have Been Intoxicated During Fight With Wife, Terminated By Blaze In New York House.

Binghamton, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Five little children, ranging in age from two to 13, are dead today as a result of a quarrel between their parents, which ended when the building in which they live, caught fire early today, trapping the youngsters within.

The father, Joseph Kokalis, in an intoxicated condition, according to the authorities was carried to the hospital suffering from burns, cuts and lacerations while the mother, also suffering from cuts and bruises, said to have been inflicted by the husband, was restrained from dashing back into the blazing building by neighbors and taken to a nearby home where friends are caring for her.

The father is being held by the authorities.

Speeding to the fire, local fire companies found the building a mass of flames. They learned of the children immediately and all streams that could be mustered were thrown on the flames.

It was an hour and a half, however, before the flames could be brought under control enough to permit the firemen to enter. Battering their way through a barricaded closet door, the firemen stumbled over the bodies of the five children huddled together, dead from suffocation.

A chair had been propped up against the door. Three of the children were clasped in each other's arms while an elder sister was holding the baby, Joseph, aged two to her breast. The dead:

Joseph, 13, John S., Stephen 6; Anna 3, Joseph 2.

Police believe that during the quarrel between husband and wife, either a light was smashed or an oil stove overturned.

Whether the children sought refuge in the closet when the battle between their parents began or later, after the fire started, could not be determined.

WASHINGTON CONFERENCES MAY BE DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN START

Washington, Jan. 17.—A number of informal conferences that may have an important bearing on the Democratic campaign for the presidency in 1924 are being held in Washington this week, participated in by no less distinguished personages than Woodrow Wilson, William Gibbs McAdoo, William J. Bryan, and leading Democrats in congress.

No program is being followed. Apparently the conversations in progress "just happened so" but they nevertheless are regarded by politicians today as highly important from the standpoint of the Democratic party, now out of power in all branches of the government, and to a great extent disorganized and leaderless.

Mr. McAdoo is a house guest of his father-in-law in S Street. Mr. Bryan just "happened" into Washington, he said, at the time of Mr. McAdoo's visit—the first time the ex-secretary of the treasury has visited the capital since he changed his official residence from New York to California.

Both Mr. Bryan and Mr. McAdoo blandly assured all questioners that their presence in Washington at this time has to do entirely with personal and private business. It was noted, however, that this private business took them post haste to the capital to see virtually all the Democratic leaders in congress during the first 48 hours of their visits here. One of the first results of the conversations in progress is expected to be a decided stiffening of the Democratic minority in favor of an extra session of congress soon after March 4. The Democrats are going to be numerically powerful in the 65th congress and they want to take advantage of that fact.

HARDING OPPOSES PLAN.

Washington, Jan. 17.—President Harding is vigorously opposed to the proposition of America accepting either the British or French West Indies in payment for the war debts of these nations, it was announced at the white house. Consequently, the administration will oppose in congress bills that have been introduced requesting the government to open negotiations along this line.

Frenzied Battle Takes Place Between Roomer and Landlady

Chicago, Jan. 17.—In a frenzied battle between a man and a woman in a home in South Chicago today the man was killed and the woman seriously injured.

The man was George Bach, 49, a roomer. His throat was cut, supposedly by a butcher knife.

The woman was Mrs. Grace Green, the landlady. She suffered lacerations on the head, believed to have been caused by a hatchet.

"He came at me with a hatchet," the woman said. "We struggled. He killed himself."

Both were found by the police on the kitchen floor.

FIFTY WITNESSES CALLED TO STAND IN LIQUOR CASES

Fifty witnesses have been subpoenaed to testify in the federal court hearing in Dayton of 13 men indicted for conspiracy to violate the Volstead act, based on the shipment of grain alcohol from a Tennessee warehouse without first being denatured, and said to have been used in the manufacture of booze later.

Three of the men who were indicted by the federal grand jury were arrested in this city, and a quantity of liquor, labelled Scotch whiskey, and with fake bottle labels purporting to have been made in Glasgow, was confiscated, later being turned over to the federal authorities. Others of the men were arrested in Columbus and Dayton, most of the alcohol having been recovered in the latter city.

Tony Sodd, of Toledo, keeper of the warehouse, who was charged with the job of denaturing all grain alcohol shipped, and who failed to do so on a large quantity of it, testified Tuesday. Sodd has already entered a guilty plea on the indictment and is not being tried on the charge. Witnesses so far have testified to the operations of the "mystery man," various known as J. S. Barton, Bodkill, Fred Fuller and "J. M." who is indicted but has never been apprehended. Sodd was one of the men arrested here when the 72 quarts of whiskey were confiscated.

HOUSE MEMBER HITS DRY ACT AS A FAILURE

Washington, Jan. 17.—Debate on the Volstead act and prohibition enforcement featured the session of the house.

Declaring that prohibition had "utterly failed to prohibit," Representative Bourke Cockran (Dem., N. Y.) told the house that if the president should call into the enforcement service all the forces used after the Civil war to enforce the fourteenth and eighteenth amendments, "the results would be the same, a dead letter in many states."

Mr. Cockran, who was speaking in reply to the charges of liquor drinking by high officials recently made on the floor of the house by Representative Upshaw, Democrat, added that "fanaticism and regulation gone mad" already had resulted in disorders in some sections of the country, and had demonstrated that there are localities where the eighteenth amendment can not be enforced.

Calling attention to the great majority given Governor Smith of New York running on a wet platform in the last election Mr. Cockran said he hoped to see the New York idea adopted by other states. Governor Smith, he said, was pledged to the total disappearance of the saloon, though he favored modification of the Volstead act.

That the dry act has proved a failure, Mr. Cockran declared, "had been shown so completely as to call forth the extraordinary statement of President Harding that disregard of the law's provisions is so widespread as to constitute a great national scandal."

EARLY ADJOURNMENT OF LEGISLATURE IS NOW BEING SOUGHT

Bill Now Up Would Allow Cities to Extend Public Facilities

Columbus, Jan. 17.—A proposal that Ohio establish minimum wages for women and children in industry is now before the legislature.

The measure provides for appointment by the governor of a minimum wage commission of three members to supervise the establishment of such wages for women and minors. It was introduced in the senate by Senator Burke of Lorain county.

A similar proposal was passed by the house during the last legislative session, but died in the senate after a bitter fight.

Municipalities would be permitted to extend their publicly owned light and water facilities any distance beyond the corporate limits by a bill introduced in the house by Representative Williams of Lake county. The present law prohibits extension beyond five miles. Mr. Williams' bill also would permit one city to contract with another for furnishing electric light and power and water.

Owners of motor bus lines would be required to take out liability bonds before being permitted to operate, by a bill introduced in the house by Representative Sullivan of Union county.

Representative Kennedy of Brown county would require all drivers of school children's conveyances to stop before crossing a railroad track.

Honorably discharged soldiers or sailors of all wars and their widows who have not already received a bonus from the state would be granted a bonus in the form of a $5,000 tax exemption by a bill introduced in the house by Representative Stevens of Montgomery county. Civil war and Spanish war veterans thus would be affected by the measure. The bill would exempt them from payment of both personal and real taxes.

Public hearings on the senate bill which would provide a tax of 1 cent per gallon on gasoline sold at retail, will be held in the senate chamber on the night of Jan. 23, the committee on taxation announced. Automobile clubs and other organizations have expressed disapproval of the bill, the proceeds of which would go for the repair and construction of roads.

Legislative leaders are preparing to exert every effort to prevent appropriation bills holding up early adjournment of the assembly, it became known with announcement of plans to speed up their preparation for introduction.

Chairman Silver of the house committee said that he intends to send to the senate immediately the house committee's findings on the requirements of each state department and institution in order that the senate may begin its consideration of the appropriation bill to come over from the house after its passage there.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unreachable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1822! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-purifiers and body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and in well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S. S. S. makes you feel like yourself again

BOX CAR DELAYS TRAIN TRAFFIC

Traffic on both the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio Railroad lines was blocked for a time at Alpha Tuesday night, when a box car on the Richmond local, an east-bound Pennsylvania freight train, jumped the track at Alpha about 7:30 o'clock.

The car not only tied up the Pennsylvania right of way but also the Baltimore and Ohio tracks nearby, for about an hour, before members of the wrecking crew had cleared the tracks.

FORMER BELLBROOK TEACHER HONORED BY HER PUPILS

A portrait of Miss Olive E. Coffeen, former Bellbrook school teacher, is now being exhibited in Indianapolis.

The picture is the work of Eugene F. Savage, whose paintings have been earning him note in New York, and who is a former pupil of Miss Coffeen at Covington, Indiana, where she has taught since leaving Greene County.

Many former pupils will remember Miss Coffeen, who served in the Bellbrook schools from about 1876 to 1880 and again for another period in about 1885 or 1886. Many of her former pupils have kept in touch with her since she left Bellbrook and has been teaching in Covington, where she has maintained a record of 60 years as a teacher.

It was at Covington that Mr. Savage was one of her pupils a number of years ago, and he was commissioned by the class of 1921 of Covington High School to paint the portrait of his former teacher. As a background for the portrait, which will be hung either in the high school or Covington library is a skyline of Covington buildings.

Miss Coffeen has a number of relatives living at Bellbrook whom she visited last summer, and while here she called on City Manager and Mrs. S. O. Hale. City Manager Hale received a copy of the Indianapolis News recently containing a photograph of the painting and a story concerning it.

JUDGE'S DECISION VICTORY FOR STATE

Court House, Eastport, La., Jan. 17.—The state of Louisiana won a smashing legal victory today in its efforts to solve the "hooded mob" murders of Morehouse parish when Judge Fred L. Odom, presiding at the open hearing, announced all "prospective defendants" would be compelled to take the stand if called as witnesses. He ruled, however, they would not be forced to answer questions tending to incriminate themselves in the crime.

Judge Odom's decision paves the way for the summoning of Captain J. K. Skipwith, exalted cyclops of the Klan and all other Klan officials, as witnesses. It was made on an objection raised by Judge William Barnett, chief of defense counsel.

RAIL STRIKERS ARE DEPORTED FROM ARKANSAS

Town Gets Back to Normal After Trouble Subsides.

Harrison, Ark., Jan. 17.—This town has resumed a tranquil appearance after two days of "armed action," in which one man was hanged, another wounded and scores of alleged Missouri and North Arkansas railway strikers started from town to the Missouri state line, accompanied by a "committee of 1,000."

The "committee of 1,000" broke up after holding special sessions behind closed doors for two days and its members are on the way to their respective homes, some of whom came a distance of 150 miles to assist in the roundup. No further trouble is anticipated.

The Arkansas legislature adopted a resolution authorizing Governor McRae to call out the national guard and declare martial law at Harrison. The resolution stated that the state legislature would make all the appropriations necessary. It was said that virtually every striker in Harrison, about 200, had been ejected from the state or placed in jail by the committee.

The body of E. C. Gregor, striking railway shop worker, found hanging from a railway trestle, was taken by relatives to his former home for burial. Gregor, it is said, was hanged after he resisted attempts of the "committee of 1,000," who were seeking to identify persons said to have carried on a campaign of sabotage against the railway company.

Following the hanging of Gregor, George W. O'Neal, hotel proprietor, who is said to have furnished bail for many strikers arrested and charged with sabotage, was taken from his home and severely whipped.

Night Marshal Rash of Harrison, who was accused of being a strike sympathizer, was seized, tied, flogged and ordered to leave town.

A. J. Russell, United States deputy marshal of Fort Smith, spent the day in Harrison investigating the situation. He came here on orders from Attorney General Daugherty. Russell said he would make his report direct to Mr. Daugherty and intimated he would recommend the railway be placed under federal guard.

LEGION OFFICERS INSTALLED TUESDAY

Plans for a supper to be held in conjunction with the next regular meeting of Joseph P. Fooley Post, No. 95, American Legion, were discussed at the special meeting held at the Post Hall Tuesday night.

New officers of the Post for the year 1923 were installed at the meeting. Post Commander Jacob Colp opened the meeting and then turned it over to the new Commander, Dr. C. G. McPherson, who made a brief address accepting the responsibilities of the leadership of the Legion, and asked for the co-operation of all members during his term of office.

Meetings are held the second Monday in each month and a supper will be a part of the program at the Feb. meeting.

BASKETBALL STAR TO PLAY IN XENIA

"Babe" Zimmerman, veteran basketball star of Dayton court teams, has been obtained to play with the Famous Autos when the aggregation tangles with Sol Butler's New York Defenders in an inter-racial court classic at the Rink Thursday night.

This announcement was made Wednesday by Julius Solowitz, who plays guard on the Auto aggregation.

Through the agency of the Famous Autos Xenia fans are being able to see some of the court stars whose names figure prominently in the history of the cage game at Dayton, appear on the local floors, but there will probably be no more impressive assemblage here any time this season than that to compose the lineup of the Autos Thursday.

"Biddy" Barlow, "Babe" Zimmerman and Joe Mark will be assigned for alternating duty at the forwards; Harry Solimano, veteran court luminary will be seen at center, and Koester, "Peck" Koehley and Solowitz, will perform at the guards. The Defenders management is also strengthening its lineup for this pastime and it is assured that Winters, formerly of the Chicago Defenders and now with the American Legion team of this city will be seen in action with Butler's team.

Owing to the unusual aspects of the game, fans are anticipating being treated to some of the best basketball to be seen here this season, and dopsters are predicting that not more than five points will separate the teams at the end of the game.

THE TROOPS ON THE RHINE NOT AN "ENTANGLEMENT."

Some American functionary formerly connected with one of the costly commissions for a time maintained by the United States in Europe has written a letter to a Senator prominent in the debate on the European situation declaring that our failure to withdraw American troops from the Rhine is not consistent with our "refusal to join an association for the preservation of European peace." No question of joining such an organization as that described has ever been before the American people. We have been asked to sign the war breeding treaty of Versailles and League of Nations covenant, and have had reason to congratulate ourselves on the refusal first of the American Senate and then of the American people to tie us up governmentally with nations which have very clearly shown in the last few months the rank insincerity of their peace professions. The presence of an American police force on the Rhine does not involve us in European politics. The troops are there for a well defined purpose, and no complication has resulted from their occupation of the Coblenz area. On the contrary our little force on the Rhine has served as a restraining influence on the French militarists. But how the politicians who wanted us to guarantee the peace of Europe through a contract to get into every future European war and who were anxious that we should accept a mandate for Armenia involving the necessity of maintaining a huge army in the Near East where the most recent war has been waged—how these preachers of European entanglement are now hypocritically crying out against the presence of our little force on the Rhine!

IS FRANCE ABLE TO "GO IT ALONE."

France is as much in default in her debt to the United States as Germany in her debt to France. Has anyone proposed that we seize Paris or even the French possessions in the West Indies as a means of enforcing payment? It is claimed in behalf of France that she cannot consider the payment of her debt to the United States unless Germany pays the war indemnities. But at the time this money was borrowed France did not know she was to collect an indemnity or that she was to acquire Alsace-Lorraine and vast territorial possessions in Africa as the result of the war. The possibility existed at that time that possibly France might have to be paying indemnities, and certainly never would have been in position to collect any except through the help given by the United States. The French government is adopting a course which is alienating from it the friendship of the American people and of the entire world. It is to be hoped that France feels able to go it alone in world affairs, for her policies are putting her in a position where she will be compelled to do so.

WOULD COST FIFTY BILLIONS.

"President Harding deserves well of a tax-burdened country for his veto of the Bursum pension bill. In his veto message the President estimates that in 50 years the operation of the bill's provisions would cost the country $50,000,000,000, an expenditure to be pondered over, no matter how worthy the object. The Bursum bill is inherently vicious in its loose provisions for pensioning widows of the country's wars from 1882 on to the civil war. It would give a life pension to any woman who had married a veteran prior to June 27, 1915, and a life pension to any woman who marries a veteran at any time, provided he lives for two years. As the President remarks, it is impossible to recognize any public obligation to pension women who now, nearly 60 years after the civil war, become the wives of veterans of that war. To permit such a bill as this to become law would be to put a premium on at least some marriages entered into as a gamble with longevity, prospective "widows" winning a $600 life annuity if they are able to keep their old husbands alive two years. A monthly pension of $50 to such widows would be in shameful contrast to the $24 a month now paid the widows of men who lost their lives in the recent world war."—Public Ledger.

RAIL PEACE SAFER.

A number of the great rail systems that had demanded hearings before the United States Railroad Labor Board on their pleas to reduce wages, eliminate overtime and change working rules have withdrawn these demands. They are negotiating with their own men, and many of them have made agreements with them.

This indicates that for the present, at least, the movement toward the "deflation" of rail labor that brought on the shop strike last summer and came near to causing a general strike in October, 1921, has come to an end. The roads are giving up their purpose of further reducing wages.

This would remove for a year, at least, any threat of a widespread or general rail strike. Roads such as the Pennsylvania, Lackawanna, Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, and New York Central have made terms, and enough of the other great systems are now negotiating to insure rail service for well-nigh half the Nation. While there may be some trouble and possibly a few strikes, such possibilities are not clouding the general optimism.

CENT A BRUSH FOR ADS BOOSTS SALES 60-FOLD.

A. C. Fuller, of the Fuller Brush Company, Hartford, Conn., explained to the Poor Richard Club how advertising has helped increase sales of the concern from $200,000 in 1915 to $12,000,000 in 1922. Advertising costs are one cent for every brush sold, he said.

Most of the money which the company spent for this purpose bought space in three magazines of national circulation, but Mr. Fuller said he had obtained "quick and valuable results from newspapers."

The Fuller sales plans include personal canvasses by salesmen, who demonstrate the sixty-nine uses to which the forty-eight types of the company's brushes may be put. The speaker said such a system was more satisfactory than selling indirectly through dealers, as the salesmen naturally take more interest in the brushes than do store clerks.

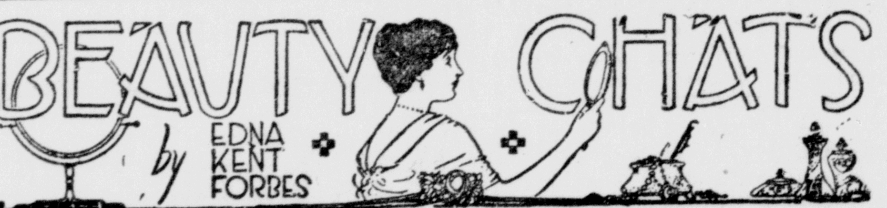

SOMEBODY'S LIABLE TO GET HURT DIGGING AROUND THOSE OLD WAR RUINS

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Mr. Frank Walker who is traveling passenger agent for the C. H. and D. Railroad is preparing to move to Dayton, from this city, his headquarters having been changed by the railroad company. Col. I. T. Cummins, of near Xenia, was selected president of the Swine Breeders' of Ohio at the meeting held at Columbus, yesterday. Thus Greene County has four stock breeders who are presidents of state associations. Excitement over the murder of the aged Jacob Harris at Greenville, continues unabated and up to this time five suspects have been placed under arrest. Ice-cutting has been the order of business at the O. S. and S. O. Home this week. The ice house by the lake has been filled with nine-inch ice. The children are now anxious for another cold spell to make ice for them to skate on.

ASTRINGENTS

We talk so much about cold creams and emollients for the complexion, that we are all rather apt to overlook one exceedingly important thing in maintaining or in gaining a young, firmness and iron flat the lines. Of course, when the astringent is removed, the old condition will return but if it's a good astringent, its use will help you, for good astringents are also stimulating.

The white of egg plays an important part in most astringents, I think it one of the best there is, simply diluted with water. Complexions vary, but this way of using egg I have found excellent. When you break and pour out an egg, take the largest half of the shell, which will have a big drop of white left in, and fill it with cold water. Rub the finger around the inside, to mix the egg and water. Use this all over your face and neck—just this and nothing more. Rub it in, let it stay on 20 minutes, wash off with warm water and rub in a little cold cream—all astringents should be followed by a cream massage as all are drying.

Of course the skin should be clean when this is applied, otherwise the dirt will be forced still further into the pores. This can be done every day if so.

D. A. B.—To make the breasts firm after they have become flabby from drying up the milk, dash cold water over them every day and use light friction from a coarse towel. The vibrator will not be any use for this purpose.

Mrs. Mary Mattox, 12 Leaman St., Xenia, says: "My kidneys became disordered and I suffered a great deal from pains in my back. My back seemed to throb and there was a steady ache across it just over my kidneys. My back was sore and lame and felt so knotted up at times I could hardly move. Sharp pains shot through my back when I stooped over and I was dizzy and nervous as well as tired and worn out. My kidneys were irregular in action. My bladder became inflamed and my condition became serious. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly praised so I got some at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store. A few boxes did excellent work for me. The troubles left and I again knew what good health meant."

MRS. SARAH HARTMAN, COLUMBUS, O.

W. Fulton Street Woman Recovers From a Severe Case of Stomach Trouble.

Statements from local people telling what Ka-di-ok has done for them and expressing their gratitude are continually being received. Selected at random from a large number on file is the following from Mrs. Sarah Hartman, living at 30 W. Fulton Street Columbus, who says: "I have been a sufferer from stomach trouble for years, some times my stomach would become so weak that I could not take the lightest kind of food or even a sip or two of water or other liquid without it souring and causing me distress and suffering afterwards. I would become so weak that I could hardly take care of the simplest kind of housework. My inability to take proper nourishment caused me to become very nervous and discouraged. I read about Ka-di-ok and started to take it. My condition improved after the first day or two. I now have a good appetite and am eating anything that appeals to me without any bad effect afterwards. I have regained my former strength and take care of my housework without any fatigue. Ka-di-ok is a grand medicine and I am pleased to tell of my experiences with it."

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xenia.

THE RAIN.

When first the rain began to pour, refreshing dale and dell, I stood and watched it from my door, and blessed it as it fell; there'd been no rain for weary weeks, no swollen cloud developed leaks, drouth stricken men had sent up shrieks for quite a little spell. It rained all day by starts and fits, it made the landscape wet; it made the greatest of all hits, it was the one best bet; but when again the morning broke, and rain was falling as I woke, I said, "This thing's beyond a joke;" it made me fume and fret. Next day the rain was falling still, as though to earn its pay, and torrents rolled adown the hill and washed my fence away; frogs chanted in the dripping dawn and ducks were swimming on the lawn and alligators and their spawn arrived, as though to stay. "This thing," I said, "I cannot bear; it breaks this heart of mine; a written protest I'll prepare, and ask my friends to sign; we'll let the weather makers know they can't abuse their patrons so; they'll make the water cease its flow, and send us something fine." This rain still fell, still getting worse; I grumbled and by-hecked; if only this old universe were run as I'd direct! I'm not consulted as to rain, or snow or drouth or hurricane; I make my protests all in vain, so what can we expect?

Today's Talk

"IT DOTH NOT YET APPEAR" There is the rustle and the bustle and the bustle of the day. Every man and woman—even to the child—busy at the string of life.

And then the gray of the closing chapter. The wheels stop. Offices are emptied. Cars, and trains, and hurrying feet—and then home! A little reading, a little playing, a little walk out under the stars and then that brief little trot of ours into dreams and forgetfulness.

Such passing chapters! Almost before we know it, the book is finished.

Just one short year ago, this old year was new—and now we are in a new one! And in just a little while this new one will be old. But there is nothing to worry about and everything to take heart in—for "it doth not yet appear what we shall be."

Each of us may be building greater and sure than we know.

It is our privilege to do our work and to get happiness out of it. And if we are not getting happiness out of it, we are not doing our work well.

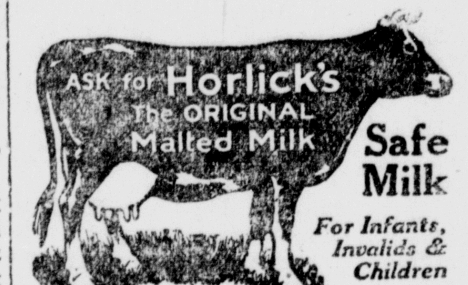

Our duty is to do the job at hand with zest and not mind the results. They will take care of themselves. To be thoughtful, efficient, considerate—to ask few questions, to smile through, to believe in ultimate good, and above all to keep faith with the faintest whispering of our honest nature—then what matter if "it doth not appear what we shall be?"

At the fittest time, the most obscure hero may have his inning.

Your bravest task is to keep fit and ready.

So that when your greatest hour of opportunity does come you won't have to run off and wash your hands before stepping out before the crowd from where you stand, to answer—"ready!"

SERIOUSLY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT
AT STATE CAPITAL

Word was received in this city Wednesday morning, that J. M. Dillon, formerly of this city, now of Columbus, had been seriously injured when struck by a machine, while crossing High Street, in Columbus, Tuesday afternoon. He was removed to Grant hospital, following the accident, and had not regained consciousness, Wednesday. Hospital attaches think that concussion of the brain may have resulted. Two nurses, besides the hospital physicians are attending him. Mrs. Dillon remaining at the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Dillon resided in this city several years ago and are well known here.

U. S. IS IRRITATED
OVER REPORTS FROM EUROPE ON PLANS

Washington, Jan. 17.—Persistent reports from Paris that the American government has approached the powers with a new plan for settling the reparations controversy led to the positive announcement from the state department today that: The United States government has not submitted any new plan to the reparations commission, nor does it intend doing so. High officials of the administration expressed complete mystification and not a little irritation over the press dispatches that reported Colonel R. W. Boyden, laying a "new plan" before the commission. While expressing complete confidence in Col. Boyden's ability and fitness to represent the United States on the reparations commission it was nevertheless apparent today that the state department is profoundly disturbed over cable reports of Col. Boyden's activities in Paris. This was exemplified by the report made by a high official to a question concerning Boyden's reported plan.

HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE
NEAR PORT WILLIAM, OHIO

The two story residence of Charles Linkhart, about a mile and a half from Port William, burned about 9 o'clock Sunday morning. The fire started from some unknown source and was not noticed until a neighbor phoned the Linkhart home telling them that the roof was burning. Every effort was made to save the house and contents but the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to remove the furniture. The house and furnishings were covered partly by insurance in the Ohio Farmers Insurance Company.

CATTLE BITTEN BY MAD DOG
Leetonia, O., Jan. 17.—C. G. Wilgerson, dairyman living a mile south of here, said that his entire herd of Guernsey cattle, valued at $100,000, is imperiled by hydrophobia as the result of bites from his dog, which recently became afflicted with rabies. Six head of cattle, valued at $4,000, already have been shot.

COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN IS LAUNCHED TUESDAY NIGHT WITH SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE BANQUET

The Community Chest Campaign in Xenia City, with a goal of $8,000, was launched at the annual meeting and banquet of the Social Service League, at the Knights of Pythias Castle, Tuesday night. Marked enthusiasm and confidence in the success of the undertaking was manifested at the meeting, which was attended by about 150 people, representatives of the various organizations of the city, and patrons of charitable work in Xenia.

Dr. H. S. Macayael, of Akron, former director of the State Department of Public Welfare was the principal speaker of the evening. His talk struck a key-note for success in the coming campaign. Dr. Macayael was introduced by Dr. B. R. McClellan, chairman of the meeting, and held the interest of the audience during the larger part of the evening. "Just so long as you consider the affairs of state and nation to be an economic problem, you will get deeper and deeper into that problem which will become unsolvable. You must consider it as a problem of humanity," said the speaker. "People think too much of mechanics in solving today's problems, when really the problem of humanity is humanity itself."

Pedigreed People
"God has always been good to a pedigreed people, which has been proven in the early history of Xenia. We believe that by machinery and inventions we can make things what they should be, you can't do it, you must have people that are of a pedigreed breed, those who have always marked the way of progress," declared Dr. Macayael.

"Xenia was well born and reared because her people were a pedigreed people, springing from a Scottish settlement, and organized by picked persons." "The Jews are the only people on the face of the earth, today, who have survived the thousands of years of persecution, because they have kept themselves a proud people, apart from the scum."

"The moral passion that led our men to fight in the Civil War, has been lost, leading to the failure of the 18th amendment. With one amendment trampled underfoot, that for which our men fought for in the Civil War, how can we expect to keep the 18th amendment? It is idle to talk of the majesty of the law today!"

Moral Fibre Necessary
The prophecy of the future depends on the moral fibre of today's citizenship," Dr. Macayael dwelt on the trend of foreigners of America's shores, and the stupendous problems that that influx is causing, urging a weeding out of the "scum," thus saving the nation's level of humanity. "For Xenia to improve her economic and human problems, she must hold the light of the past, and a view of the future, and build her ideal on the right kind of people," the speaker declared. "You can't build an edifice of humanity on mud-sills," was his statement. "The people of the nation are losing faith and breaking the restraints of our fathers' religion. We should all get back of a movement to pro-note humanity, and to solve this problem, five necessary fundamentals must be considered: first, a weeding out of a class that is below the standard, and stopping their spread, by segregating them; second, giving poverty an opportunity of making its own way; third, a school in every community, for backward children, so that they may be trained to be useful citizens; fourth, an effort to give every unfortunate and handicapped child a chance in life; fifth, a blotting out of diseases that would otherwise become epidemics."

BALLOT NOT FOR MOB.

The ballot was looked upon by Dr. Macayael as "The most delicate instrument," to be placed in the hands of citizens. Proof has been found that the ballot cannot be trusted with certain classes of people, and for that reason it's use should, according to the speaker be limited instead of being given to the mob. "The mob will want its own kind in the chairs of state, if allowed to exercise the use of the ballot," he stated. "The Lord deliver us from the politician," declared the speaker.

Dr. Macayael's address was followed by a report of the Nominating Committee of the Social Service League Board, given by T. H. Zell. The following names were submitted by the committee as members of the League Board: President, Dr. V. F. Brown; vice presidents, Dr. B. R. McClellan, Mrs. C. H. Little, Mrs. J. B. Carruthers, Mrs. Homer L. Sayre, Miss Clara Marshall, Mrs. Emma McCalmont, the Rev. R. E. Holmes, Mrs. M. L. Wolf, Mrs. C. W. Linkhart, Miss Bertha Trebein, and J. Kenneth Williamson; recording secretary, Miss Charlie Santmyer; associated recording secretary, Miss Edith Fawcett; treasurer, F. F. Keyes. The Nominating Committee was composed of Miss Margaret Moorehead, Mrs. T. D. Kyle and T. H. Zell.

GIVE BRIEF REPORTS.

Mrs. Carrie I. Robertson, executive secretary of the Social Service League, and Mrs. Margaret Kelley, public health nurse of the league, gave brief reports of their year's work. Miss Mildred Prugh, chairman of the sale of Christmas seals in the county reported that $700.65 had been raised in the drive in Xenia city; $547.15 in the townships of the county, making a total of $1,247.80, with an expense account of $8.71. Twenty per cent of the amount will be forwarded to the Ohio Public Health Association, eighty per cent to remain in Greene County, to be handled through the Social Service League, in combating tuberculosis. F. F. Keyes, treasurer of the Social Service League, gave a complete year's financial report.

Pamphlets have been issued by the League, explaining the work of the organization, and giving a complete financial report for the year. Karl B. Bloom, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the Community Chest Drive, outlined the plans for the coming campaign, and explained the division of funds among the various organizations of the city. The solicitation for funds began Wednesday morning, a city-wide corps of solicitors being enlisted to carry on the work. Mr. Bloom made a plea for support, and expressed confidence in winning the goal of $8,000 in the campaign.

ATTENDS MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS

H. A. Higgins, representative of the Old Dominion Mortgage Company, and a number of Greene County stockholders of the company, attended the stockholders meeting in Dayton Tuesday night.

Officials, managers and board members attended a dinner at the Gibbons Hotel, and later met with the stockholders at the office of Kimmel and Prehafer, Montgomery County agents for the company.

The president, sales manager and other company officials were present and addressed the gathering and a report of the company's operations for the year 1922 was given, after which a plan for a three-months' sales campaign was announced. A number of Xenia people attended the meeting.

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. adv

"Give me 80 miles of gas"

If gas could be bought on a mile-per-gallon basis, how differently the motorist would select his fuel. "Give me 80 miles of gas." Sounds funny but that's practically what it amounts to. You pay so much for so much gas and expect a certain mileage in return.

If you will measure the mileage cost per gallon on Columbus Gasoline you'll become a steady Columbus customer. Thousands of motorists use only pure Columbus Gasoline. Try it for more mileage, better pickup, more power, smoother running.

Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick.

Music holds a lofty place in the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs. It has encouraged community sings from the first. It holds to the belief that music is the soul of the republic. All over the state there has been a notable revival in all kinds of enduring music.

At Delaware, following the suggestion of Mrs. B. F. Freshwater, the new district head of the music department of the Ohio Federation, practically all of the city's glee clubs conducted a holiday sing in Gray chapel and it was such a successful event that it has been planned to make it an annual affair. The Delaware school children were among the singers.

Mrs. John W. Roby, Lima, state chairman of the Ohio Federation music division, calls attention to the observance of MacDowell memorial week this month. America's greatest composer dying in the month of January. Every woman's club in America has been asked to observe the anniversary of his death with an especial program some time this month. Papers on the "MacDowell Colony of Petersborough, in New Hampshire, may be obtained by communicating with Mrs. Marx L. Oberndorfer, national music chairman, No. 320 Fine Arts building, Chicago.

Mrs. Robert C. Morris, Toledo, chairman of literature of the Ohio Federation, is busy organizing literature classes over the state, the latest being in Marion.

The Marion Council of Jewish Women's Sewing circle is doing much charitable work. Just now it is engaged in making infant garments and the public health nurse.

The Woman's Century Club realized $50 on its bridge party and turned it over to the Marion City hospital.

Mrs. Vic Donahay and Mrs. Lillian Cole Bethel, Columbus, have been made honorary members of the Altrurian club, Columbus, this club being the first to extend this courtesy to Ohio's new governor. Mrs. Bethel is parliamentarian for the Ohio Federation.

HAD CLOSE SHAVE

"My wife and children thought I was dying when, after an attack of acute pains in my stomach, I became unconscious. It was after our Sunday dinner. They say I looked like dead and guess I had a pretty close shave. I had been having more or less stomach trouble and bloating with gas for past two years and could get no permanent help. Talking with a friend about my attack, he advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I have not had any gas or stomach trouble since taking it eighteen months ago." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre & Hemphill and druggists everywhere.

tion. The Columbus Altrurians are planning a big Washington's birthday party for Feb. 22.

Mrs. Wm. H. Crawford, No. 2933 Vernon Place, Cincinnati, hopes to meet every educational problem as it presents itself during the present year, and with her committee work toward its sane solution. Mrs. Crawford is chairman of the division of education of the department of applied education of the Ohio Federation. Briefly, her committee plans embrace the following heads: "Better American Speech," "Illiteracy," "Kindergarten," "Peace and International Relations," and "Rural Schools."

Mrs. Crawford hopes to cover the entire state with plans for her work and make them of such constructive value that they will be of definite impetus toward a steady educational growth.

Mrs. Crawford would have the president of every city and county federation in the state to take up each of these subjects and carry them on to some successful conclusion of work. Each federation president with available membership, will be expected to name a chairman to specialize on these particular phases of education.

"It is our earnest desire to have Ohio measure up to the highest standards in every line of educational endeavor this year," Mrs. Crawford writes. "This a consummation devoutly to be wished," and with the co-operation of our Ohio club women, it is assured.

The Ohio Federation is to have a budget committee to guide its financial welfare in the future. This com-

MARRIAGE TOPIC OF CHURCH SERMON BY LOCAL PASTOR

"Whatsoever is at war with marriage is at war with the religion of Christ. People, who think to improve upon it only dishonor God and themselves."

Taking for his text, John 2:1-2, concerning the presence of Jesus at the wedding in Galilee, the Rev. B. B. Uhl, pastor of the First Lutheran Church delivered a forceful sermon at the Sunday morning service of the church. Believing that "God's sanction is upon this sacred ordinance, as a rebuke against a false holiness," the Rev. B. B. Uhl took his topic for a sermon that was well received by members of the congregation.

"God's sanction is seen from the prominence He has given to this ordinance, not only was it the first ordinance of God for man, but Christ began the establishment of His religion by recognition of this institution. The fact is, Christianity was begun as guardian and beautifier of the home, as the unit of society. Where marriage is entered into reverently, discreetly and in the fear of God, the Savior's sanction and blessing always go with it."

"We are taught in the Bible about the relation of social life to Christianity. It teaches us that Christianity is a social and joyous religion that God loves a smile better than a frown; laughter better than a groan; joy better than sorrow. Of course, when trials or sorrows come, we should bear them patiently, but Christ does not want us to be miserable, for the sake of being so. There is nothing sanctifying in misery, in and of itself. We cannot believe that an austere and Puritanic religion is a true expression of the religion which Christ taught, or exemplified.

"Christianity is for seasons of festivity and joy, as well as for periods of pain, grief and depression. Here is where many people grievously err. When they are happy and prosperous, they feel no need of Christ's presence, and care little about having Him in their company. There is no earthly happiness so happy, but what Christ's presence can make it happier."

"They, who seek to have Him at their weddings and other social functions, can count more confidently on Him in their sufferings, and at their deathbeds. It is a most grievous error to conceive religion interfering with our friendships, or our comforts, or enjoyments. True piety is itself a marriage; a happy joining of the soul to its proper Head and Benefactor, in whose fellowship lies its sublimest happiness."

NEW JASPER

Quite a number of persons are laid up with grip in this community.

There is almost an epidemic of grip in the village now.

Mrs. Jenks' piano pupils gave a recital at Mrs. Eagles' Saturday.

BRINGING UP FATHER

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

You cannot eat your cake and have it. So the cautious wise ones wait. But I shall eat mine willy-nilly. Otherwise it might get stale.

The Farmers' Institute will be held in the Town Hall Monday and Tuesday.

The next number of the lecture course, The Moore's Entertainers, which was to have been given Tuesday evening, Jan. 16 has been postponed on account of sickness.

Miss Norma Kneel is ill of congestion of the lungs.

The congregation of the M. E. Church is holding cottage prayer meetings now on the regular prayer meeting night, Thursday.

The Ladies of the Friends Church who held a market in Xenia Saturday were well pleased with their success.

NEW BURLINGTON

B. H. Miller, our butcher, has been confined to his house for several days with an attack of the grip. Horace Compton has been in charge of the meat shop during his illness.

Miss Nellie Dunlap, of Zoar, spent the week with her sister, Mrs. B. H. Miller and family.

Mrs. Frank Stanley, who fell from a ladder, last fall, and broke the bones of her left limb, is slowly improving and able to get about the house with the aid of crutches.

A series of evangelistic services are expected to begin at the Friends' church, Sunday evening, January 21, in charge of Miss Bertha Day, pastor of Jamestown Friends' church.

Arnold McKay, of near Oregonia, who is executive secretary of Wilmington Yearly Meeting, was present at the morning services at the Friends' Church, Sunday, and preached.

Quite a number are sick with the grip. Mrs. Daisy Haines, Mrs. Justus Reeves, Mrs. Wm. Chenoweth, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Folland and Mildred Carr are among the number.

Protracted meetings will continue this week at the M. E. church, with the pastor, Rev. Ballenger in charge.

Mrs. Bessie Robinson, wife of Rev. J. B. Robinson, who went to Florida, last summer, for her health, died last week. Rev. Robinson was pastor here three years ago.

Mrs. Rose Hite, who was taken to the McClellan hospital, for treatment, is not expected to recover.

New Reader: "Can you give me a recipe for a luncheon dish made of baked grapes?"

Answer: Welcome to the column! I am glad to give you this recipe: Economical Grapes Dish: Put one quart of sweet milk into a medium-size baking dish and stir into it one-half cup of sugar, two cups of uncooked grapes and one well-beaten egg. Bake 20 minutes in a hot oven and serve either hot or cold. This dish is semi-sweet. If, however, you wish to use it as a dessert, add more sugar and serve it with a hot lemon sauce.

Mrs. P. C.: "Can I dye brown flannel a navy blue?"

Answer: I am afraid not. I would not try it if I were you.

Two Reader Friends: "Will you please publish recipes for Sour Dough Bread and Sour Dough Biscuits?"

Answer: As I do not happen to have these recipes, I am going to ask some of our readers who have them, to send them to me so that I can publish them here for you.

Mrs. B.: "How can I clean velvet flowers?"

Answer: With either gasoline, benzine or naphtha applied with a small brush. Do not use these liquids near heat or flame.

Daily Reader: "Not long ago one of your readers mentioned having fish stains on her baby's white dress. I have had good results in removing fish stains from linen by putting the cloth immediately in table salt and cold water."

Answer: Thank you, Reader Friend. There is always somebody ready to "lend a hand."

Club Member: "When we invite the public to one of our open meetings I often see strangers standing alone, with nobody talking to them. This is not a right state of affairs. Can you suggest a means by which everybody present would enter into conversation with somebody else?"

Answer: "Why couldn't you have bits of different colored ribbons in a basket, each ribbon with a pin through it, and ask everyone present to step up to the basket and select a ribbon to pin on herself; then announce that every woman is to chat only with the people who wear her own color; in this way, all those wearing blue will gather together, all wearing white will chat together, and so on, and this will insure the enjoyment of all."

Chapters From A Woman's Life

BY JANE PHELPS

MRS. PAGE FINDS VASHTI CHARMING

Chapter 80.

Miss Vernon is going to let me paint her portrait!" Walter gleefully announced, "and I hope to persuade her to pose for a picture I have in mind."

"She is certainly a lovely creature," his mother said. "And her manners are quite charming. She shows a deference to age, I haven't observed in some of your friends. I was quite charmed with her."

It was rather comical Mrs. Page, after her warning to me, talking in that way, yet I felt like groaning. Because of Miss Vernon's tact, her dainty ways Walter's mother would overlook an intimacy with her, she would not think of condoning in a professional model.

Mrs. Page had tried to lessen Helen Ralston's influence over Walter, she would increase that of Miss Vernon by her praise.

"Don't cross bridges until you come to them," an old saying of my father's occurred to me. But I had seen Walter's delight in her in the South—turned away for a bit by Daisy Borden, it is true, but now returned in full degree, I could tell by his enthusiasm.

I listened without comment to Walter's talk of her, but he did not notice my silence.

He never did when he was talking of pictures. He was to call at her hotel to discuss the sort of gown she would wear for her portrait, and so on.

"Red velvet, I think," he chattered. "A deep American beauty rose shade. It would set off her hair and eyes as nothing else would. It would be ravishing on her cut décolleté without sleeves."

I should not have thought of denying Vashti Vernon's beauty, but it isn't very pleasant to sit and hear one's husband talk so enthusiastically about another woman's physical charms. It often seemed to me it would not be so hard to hear if it was a woman's mind he admired, her intellectuality.

Yet now I know it would have been a far more dangerous admiration, than that of the merely physical beauty of the woman who sat for him.

But one doesn't reason when jealous one only suffers. Especially if, as I did, they hide the jealousy in their hearts instead of giving it expression.

This was the mood I was in when Vashti Vernon began her sittings with Walter. Not one that promised me either happiness or comfort.

What a wonderful thing the love of a child is to a mother! Little Jack with his sweet ways, his caresses, his tiny hands on my face often brushed away my unhappy thoughts made me forget things it was unwise to remember.

At times, it seemed that Mrs. Page was envious of my boy's affection for me, although he loved her.

She would call him away when he was particularly affectionate, as if the sight somehow hurt her. At first I smiled at the idea, but gradually it became more noticeable, even Jennie observed and spoke of it.

"She acts as if he was her baby," Jennie declared. I never had been able to break her of speaking of Mrs. Page as "she."

"Oh, no! Mrs. Page loves him dearly, Jennie," I replied. "She is very good to him. I feel so safe when he is with her."

"She loves him all right! But she'd like it if he didn't love you so much. I ain't blind, and I see the way she looks at you when you are playing with him."

I laughed at Jennie, yet I knew she was right. Mrs. Page, Jack's grandmother resented his greater affection for me, his mother. She lavished the most expensive toys upon him, never went out that she did not bring him something. Often things I could not have afforded. Childlike he soon recognized her generosity, and would run to her asking what she had brought him.

"You'll spoil him," I told her. "That's my right," she answered in her hardest manner. "He's my grandson."

I wanted to say: "He's my son," but when she spoke in that tone I had learned to keep still.

But I tried to reason that it was but natural she should indulge him, when she could so well afford it. Mostly, however, I thought it had for Jack. He tired of everything so quickly; was ready to throw aside the toy of a day for another, newer one, losing interest in these he had. One day I strung a lot of empty spoons for him, and called Mrs. Page's attention that he played with them longer than he did the extravagant and expensive toys she bought him. But my little ruse had no effect, save to annoy her.

VALUABLE PEARL NECKLACE UNearthED IN OHIO MOUND

Chillicothe, Jan. 17.—A fresh water pearl necklace worth $15,000, was unearthed last summer in a Hopewell mound by the excavating expedition of Ohio State Archeological and Historical Society. The news was kept secret and recently leaked out.

The necklace contains nearly three hundred freshwater pearls, graduated in size from a marble to a bluish. Several pearls are perfect in shape, as if they had been polished, the others are imperfectly formed. Dr. Mills, curator of the archeological museum in Columbus was recently offered $15,000 for the string that measures four feet in length. "This necklace belongs to the state of Ohio, however," says Dr. Mills, "and cannot be sold. It is the finest necklace that has ever been found among the moundbuilder relics."

Because of its priceless worth as a relic of primitive man in Ohio, the necklace is kept in the vault of the museum and few people know of its existence.

Clouds Of War Are Gathering

EASTERN EUROPE
MENAGED AGAIN
BY NEW STRIFE

War Scare Involves France, Belgium, Germany, Poland and Russia
SEEK GENERAL STRIKE
French Preparing to Advance 15 Miles Further Into Germany.

Amsterdam, Jan. 17.—French troops at Dortmund are preparing to advance 15 miles further to Hamm if the German mine owners in the Ruhr refuse to resume the delivery of reparations coal, said a dispatch from Dusseldorf today.

It is understood that the forward movement of the French will be resumed within 36 hours if the Germans persist in their refusal to turn over coal and coke to the allies.

Paris, Jan. 17.—German representatives, evidently acting on instructions from Berlin, refused today to appear before the Inter-allied reparations commission to give information regarding Germany's failure to make reparations deliveries. The meeting set for today was postponed until Friday.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—Declaring that French invasion of the Ruhr endangers Europe with another war, Clara Zetkin, German communist; Karl Radek, of the Russian soviet government and J. T. W. Newbold, communist member of the British parliament, today called upon workers in London, Vienna, Amsterdam and other European capitals to arrange a general strike in protest.

It was suggested that the strikes begin the end of this month and "cover all Europe to show the strength of pacific labor."

Paris, Jan. 17.—War clouds gathered over eastern Europe today while France was busily engaged in military activities in Germany. The war menace threatens to involve France, Belgium, Germany, Poland, Lithuania and Russia.

It was reported that Poland was mobilizing but subsequently this was officially denied from Warsaw. Poland has appealed to France for military assistance in event of war. This appeal was considered by the cabinet this morning. Alarming reports from the Baltic states and the Balkans are causing intense anxiety on the part of French officials.

Italy, becoming alarmed over the war scare in Southern Europe, is giving indications that she will withdraw her support of French occupation of the Ruhr and will line up with Great Britain; France is more interested in the situation at Memel than that in the Balkans. French officials say that seizure of Memel by Lithuanians—a nation friendly to Russia—is equivalent to being a bridge directly from Russia to Germany. It virtually establishes an alliance between the two powers.

America Is Scored
The French newspaper L'Information, in commenting upon the eastern Europe war scare, said:
"Lithuania by seizing the neutral district at Memel and the city of Memel itself, is menacing Baltic peace. Where is the money coming from to maintain a big standing army in the little country of Lithuania? The answer is from America, the land of idealism. Money is refused France so long as she has a military budget. Now we know that Charly money has been sent to Lithuania has been converted into gun powder and machine guns."

Communists in central Europe, alarmed over the outlook for war are conferring actively to take preventive measures.
Russia has concentrated troops along the Polish frontier but Moscow denies any intention of hostility.
Poland has sent a gun boat to Memel and the Lithuanians are making formal protests against its presence there.

French officials admitted the prospect of a Polish attack against Lithuania adding that they would not be surprised to see Russia invade Poland if there was a Polish-Lithuanian clash. Poland and Lithuania have been at loggerheads for two years, or ever since Polish troops invaded Lithuania and seized Vilna, the capital. This territory was never restored.

ENGLAND ORDERS DEBT FUNDING COMMISSION LEADER TO RETURN

London, Jan. 17.—The British cabinet today advised Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer and head of the British debt funding commission at Washington to sail for home Saturday, if possible, to make a full report upon the negotiations for funding the $4,277,000,000 British debt.

The cabinet has advised Chancellor Baldwin to be hesitant in making an agreement which Britain may be unable to fulfill. The chancellor was warned that any agreement causing heavy British taxation would make the financial future of the country uncertain. The cabinet desires to hear details of America's attitude before Baldwin fully commits himself to a plan.

BRITAIN TO ASK AMERICA'S HELP TO PREVENT WAR

Law Likely to Propose Means to Intervene In Trouble
BECOMING ALARMED

"On to Berlin" is Cry of French Officers at Essen

London, Jan. 17.—Co-operation and intervention by the United States and Great Britain to settle the German reparations problem and to prevent French occupation of the Rhineland from leading to another war, may be proposed by Premier A. Bonar Law if a favorable opportunity comes. It was learned from official sources today.

Premier Bonar Law is said to be getting alarmed over the continued advance of the French troops through Germany in the direction of Berlin. He would welcome a move by the United States for Anglo-American co-operation and would lose no time in accepting such an invitation officials said.

For the time being Great Britain will play the role of observer, while standing aloof from French and Belgian activities. But in the meantime officialdom will remain vigilantly alert for an opening to propose joint action with America.

Four German mine owners in the Ruhr, including August Thyssen, coal and iron magnate, have been notified by Gen. DeGoutte to consider themselves under arrest for refusing to deliver coal from their mines to the allies, according to an unconfirmed dispatch from Germany.

Both German officials and French army officers at Essen ridiculed with laughter a rumor circulated outside of Germany that an army of 25,000 German military policemen has been mobilized north of Dortmund.

"On to Berlin," is becoming the cry of French officers, in view of the persistent hostility of the coal and iron magnates. French officers said that they would have no hesitation in arresting the mine owners and that they believed this action would be followed by orders from Paris to continue the advance in the direction of the German capital.

PLANT IS DESTROYED BY FIRE WEDNESDAY

Canton, Ohio, Jan. 17.—Fire starting from unknown origin completely destroyed the G. A. Swinford and Sons Agricultural implement plant here early today, causing a loss of $125,000, partially covered by insurance. The blaze occurred at 2:30 o'clock at the height of a raging blizzard and firemen fought the fire under the greatest difficulty.

A general alarm sent all apparatus in the city to the scene to prevent the spread of the blaze to adjoining plants. Firemen were coated with ice and several of them were forced to abandon the battle because of exhaustion and exposure. Fire Chief Mesnar was removed to his home with a badly injured leg, received when he fell from an ice covered lumber pile from which he was directing the fight to prevent spread of the fire.

WOULD REQUIRE WAR REFERENDUM

Washington, Jan. 17.—A constitutional amendment requiring a referendum before a declaration of war was proposed by Representative Winifred Mason Huck (Rep., Ill.) in her first address in the house. Mrs. Huck's proposal would authorize the president to inform the world that the United States is ready to declare war on the people the power to declare war on condition that other nations do likewise.

"Women are opposed to war and never intend to rest until universal peace is established," Mrs. Huck said. "We want other laws dealing with woman's welfare, but universal peace is foremost. History shows that the concentration of power in the hands of one man has caused most of the wars."

WHOLE SECTION OF BALTIMORE IN FIRE'S PATH

Clothing Warehouse Destroyed Before Firemen Check Big Blaze

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 17.—Fire early this morning destroyed the large clothing warehouse in Hopkins Place and for a time threatened the entire wholesale district. The building was occupied by the Wear-Well Pants Company. Several hundred thousand dollars worth of goods were stored in the building.

It was in the same block in which the great fire of 1904 started—in the heart of the wholesale clothing and dry good district.

The loss was put at $496,000 and it was not until about 8:30 that the firemen began returning to their home stations.

JUDGE PECK GIVES UP HIS POSITION

Cincinnati, Jan. 17.—Judge John Peck, U. S. District Judge for the southern Ohio district, has tendered his resignation to President Harding, giving as his reason a desire to return to private practice. The resignation comes as a complete surprise. Speculation is rife today as to his successor, those most prominently mentioned being Comon Pleas Judge Thomas H. Darby, Robert E. Nevin, of Dayton, Ohio, and Col. Benson Hough, Delaware. The latter also has been mentioned for the U. S. district attorneyship here. In the event he is appointed to the judgeship, it is predicted Haveth E. Mau, of Dayton will get the attorneyship plump.

Trenton, N. Dayton, Jan. 17.—Frank Pett learned that the judge wasn't petting him a bit when he handed him a fine of $100 and costs for driving an automobile while intoxicated and then tacked on a thirty day sentence in the work house, which started today. The court made it all the stronger by overruling the motion for a new trial.

YOUNGSTERS TRAPPED IN BURNING HOME AS PARENTS QUARRELING

Husband Said to Have Been Intoxicated During Fight With Wife, Terminated By Blaze In New York House.

Binghamton, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Five little children, ranging in age from two to 13, are dead today as a result, police say, of a quarrel between their parents, which ended when the building in which they live, caught fire early today, trapping the youngsters within.

The father, Joseph Kokalis, in an intoxicated condition, according to the authorities was carried to the hospital suffering from burns, cuts and lacerations while the mother, also suffering from cuts and bruises, said to have been inflicted by the husband, was restrained from dashing back into the blazing building by neighbors and taken to a nearby home where friends are caring for her.

The father is being held by the authorities.

Speeding to the fire, local fire companies found the building a mass of flames. They learned of the children immediately and all streams that could be mustered were thrown on the flames.

It was an hour and a half, however, before the flames could be brought under control enough to permit the firemen to enter. Battering their way through a barricaded closet door, the firemen stumbled over the bodies of the five children huddled together, dead from suffocation.

A chair had been propped up against the door. Three of the children were clasped in each other's arms while an elder sister was holding the baby, Joseph, aged two to her breast. The dead:

Jose, 13, John S, Stephen 6; Anna 3, Joseph 2.

Police believe that during the quarrel between husband and wife, either a light was smashed or an oil stove overturned.

Whether the children sought refuge in the closet when the battle between their parents began or later, after the fire started, could not be determined.

WASHINGTON CONFERENCES MAY BE DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN START

Washington, Jan. 17.—A number of informal conferences that may have an important bearing on the Democratic campaign for the presidency in 1924 are being held in Washington this week, participated in by no less distinguished personages than Woodrow Wilson, William Gibbs McAdoo, William J. Bryan, and leading Democrats in congress.

No program is being followed. Apparently the conversations in progress "just happened so" but they nevertheless are regarded by politicians today as highly important from the standpoint of the Democratic party, now out of power in all branches of the government, and to a great extent disorganized and leaderless.

Mr. McAdoo is a house guest of his father-in-law in S Street. Mr. Bryan just "happened" into Washington, he said, at the time of Mr. McAdoo's visit—the first time the ex-secretary of the treasury has visited the capital since he changed his official residence from New York to California.

Both Mr. Bryan and Mr. McAdoo blandly assured all questioners that their presence in Washington at this time has to do entirely with personal and private business. It was noted, however, that this private business took them post haste to the capitol to see virtually all the Democratic leaders in Congress during the last 48 hours of their visits here. One of the first results of the conversations in progress is expected to be a decided stiffening of the Democratic minority in favor of an extra session of congress soon after March 4. The Democrats are going to be numerically powerful in the 68th congress and they want to take advantage of that fact.

POLAND CONSCRIPTS MEN FOR THE ARMY

Copenhagen, Jan. 17.—The Polish government has begun to conscript all males between the ages of 22 and 40 for military service, according to information from Warsaw today.

General Pilsudski, commander in chief of the Polish army, has come to Brest-Litovsk to investigate Russian troop movements on the Polish frontier. Leon Trotsky, Russian minister of war, is reported to be with the Russian troops.

HARDING OPPOSES PLAN.

Washington, Jan. 17.—President Harding is vigorously opposed to the proposition of America accepting either the British or French West Indies in payment for the war debts of those nations, it was announced at the white house. Consequently, the administration will oppose in congress bills that have been introduced requesting the government to open negotiations along this line.

Athens, Jan. 17.—A terrific epidemic today is scourging with death the thousand of Christian refugees who fled into Greece from Asia Minor after the defeat of the Greek army by the Turkish nationalists.

FIFTY WITNESSES CALLED TO STAND IN LIQUOR CASES

Fifty witnesses have been subpoenaed to testify in the federal court hearing in Dayton of 13 men indicted for conspiracy to violate the Volstead act, based on the shipment of grain alcohol from a Tennessee warehouse without first being denatured, and said to have been used in the manufacture of booze later.

Three of the men who were indicted by the federal grand jury were arrested in this city, and a quantity of liquor, labeled Scotch whiskey, and with fake bottle labels purporting to have been made in Glasgow, was confiscated, later being turned over to the federal authorities. Others of the men were arrested in Columbus and Dayton, most of the alcohol having been recovered in the latter city.

Tony Sodd, of Toledo, keeper of the warehouse, who was charged with the job of denaturing all grain alcohol shipped, and who failed to do so on a large quantity of it, testified Tuesday. Sodd has already entered a guilty plea on the indictment and is not being tried on the charge. Witnesses so far have testified to the operations of the "mystery man," various known as J. S. Barton, Bodkill, Fred Fuller and "I. M." who is indicted but has never been apprehended. Sodd was one of the men arrested here when the 72 quarts of whiskey were confiscated.

—fresh and rosy—or pinched and chilly? That's a matter for Mother to decide.

Children, as well as grown-ups, need a hot mealtime beverage that is wholesome, invigorating, and free from harmful after-effects.

Coffee is known to be harmful—especially to children. That is why so many thoughtful mothers give their children delicious Postum. This pure cereal beverage gives needed warmth and comfort, has delightful flavor and aroma, and is free from anything that can injure the health of children or adults.

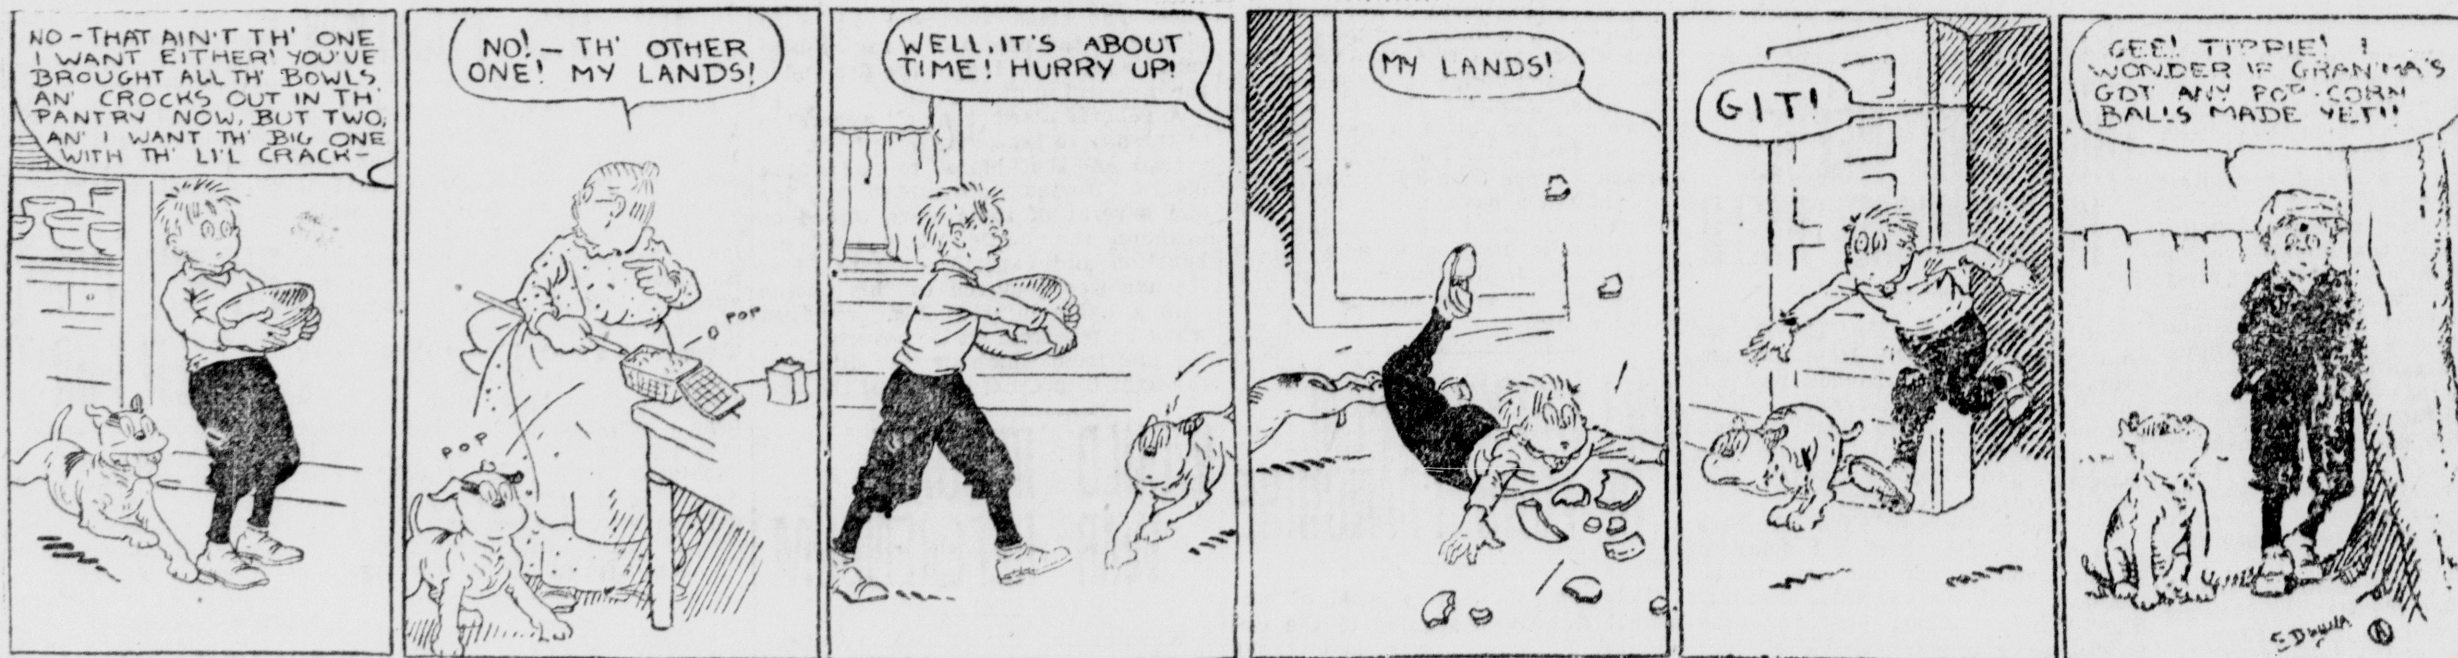

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

HOUSE MEMBER HITS DRY ACT AS A FAILURE

Washington, Jan. 17.—Debate on the Volstead act and prohibition enforcement featured the session of the house.

Declaring that prohibition had "utterly failed to prohibit," Representative Bourke Cockran (Dem., N. Y.) told the house that if the president should call into the enforcement service all the forces used after the Civil war to enforce the fourteenth and eighteenth amendments, "the results would be the same, a dead letter in many states."

Mr. Cockran, who was speaking in reply to the charges of liquor drinking by high officials recently made on the floor of the house by Representative Upshaw, Democrat, added that "fanaticism and regulation gone mad" already had resulted in disorders in some sections of the country, and had demonstrated that there are localities where the eighteenth amendment can not be enforced.

Calling attention to the great majority given Governor Smith of New York running on a wet platform in the last election Mr. Cockran said he hoped to see the New York idea adopted by other states. Governor Smith, he said, was pledged to the total disappearance of the saloon, though he favored modification of the Volstead act.

That the dry act has proved a failure, Mr. Cockran declared, "had been shown so completely as to call forth the extraordinary statement of President Harding that disregard of the law's provisions is so widespread as to constitute a great national scandal."

EARLY ADJOURNMENT OF LEGISLATURE IS NOW BEING SOUGHT

Bill Now Up Would Allow Cities to Extend Public Facilities

Columbus, Jan. 17.—A proposal that Ohio establish minimum wages for women and children in industry is now before the legislature.

The measure provides for appointment by the governor of a minimum wage commission of three members to supervise the establishment of such wages for women and minors. It was introduced in the senate by Senator Burke of Lorain county.

A similar proposal was passed by the house during the last legislative session, but died in the senate after a bitter fight.

Municipalities would be permitted to extend their publicly owned light and water facilities any distance beyond the corporate limits by a bill introduced in the house by Representative Williams of Lake county. The present law prohibits extension beyond five miles. Mr. Williams' bill would permit one city to contract with another for furnishing electric light and power and water.

Owners of motor bus lines would be required to take out liability bonds before being permitted to operate, by a bill introduced in the house by Representative Sullivan of Union county.

Representative Kennedy of Brown county would require all drivers of school children's conveyances to stop before crossing a railroad track.

Honorably discharged soldiers or sailors of all wars and their widows who have not already received a bonus from the state would be granted a bonus in the form of a $5,000 tax exemption by a bill introduced in the house by Representative Stevens of Montgomery county. Civil war and Spanish war veterans thus would be affected by the measure. The bill would exempt them from payment of both personal and real taxes.

Public hearings on the senate bill which would provide a tax of 1 cent per gallon on gasoline sold at retail, will be held in the senate chamber on the night of Jan. 23, the committee on taxation announced. Automobile clubs and other organizations have expressed disapproval of the bill, the proceeds of which would go for the repair and construction of roads.

Legislative leaders are preparing to exert every effort to prevent appropriation bills holding up early adjournment of the assembly, it became known with announcement of plans to speed up their preparation for introduction.

Chairman Silver of the house committee said that he intends to send to the senate immediately the house committee's findings on the requirements of each state department and institution in order that the senate may begin its consideration of the appropriation bill to come over from the house after its passage there.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. But have facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unbearable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1822! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and in well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S. S. S. makes you feel like yourself again

BOX CAR DELAYS TRAIN TRAFFIC

Traffic on both the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio Railroad lines was blocked for a time at Alpha Tuesday night, when a box car on the Richmond local, an east-bound Pennsylvania freight train, jumped the track at Alpha about 7:30 o'clock.

The car not only tied up the Pennsylvania right of way but also the Baltimore and Ohio tracks nearby, for about an hour, before members of the wrecking crew had cleared the tracks.

FORMER BELLBROOK TEACHER HONORED BY HER PUPILS

A portrait of Miss Olive E. Coffeen, former Bellbrook school teacher, is now being exhibited in Indianapolis.

The picture is the work of Eugene F. Savage, whose paintings have been earning him note in New York, and who is a former pupil of Miss Coffeen at Covington, Indiana, where she has taught since leaving Greene County.

Many former pupils will remember Miss Coffeen, who served in the Bellbrook schools from about 1876 to 1880 and again for another period in about 1885 or 1886. Many of her former pupils have kept in touch with her since she left Bellbrook and has been teaching in Covington, where she has maintained a record of 60 years as a teacher.

It was at Covington that Mr. Savage was one of her pupils a number of years ago, and he was commissioned by the class of 1921 of Covington High School to paint the portrait of his former teacher. As a background for the portrait, which will be hung either in the high school or Covington library is a skyline of Covington buildings.

Miss Coffeen has a number of relatives living at Bellbrook whom she visited last summer, and while here she called on City Manager and Mrs. S. O. Hale. City Manager Hale received a copy of the Indianapolis News recently containing a photograph of the painting and a story concerning it.

JUDGE'S DECISION VICTORY FOR STATE

Court House, Bastrop, La., Jan. 17.—The state of Louisiana won a smashing legal victory today in its efforts to solve the "hooded mob" murders of Morehouse parish when Judge Fred L. Odom, presiding at the open hearing, announced all "prospective defendants" would be compelled to take the stand if called as witnesses. He ruled, however, they would not be forced to answer questions tending to incriminate themselves in the crime.

Judge Odom's decision paves the way for the summoning of Captain J. K. Skipwith, exalted cyclops of the Klan and all other Klan officials, as witnesses. It was made on an objection raised by Judge William Barnett, chief of defense counsel.

RAIL STRIKERS ARE DEPORTED FROM ARKANSAS

Town Gets Back to Normal After Trouble Sub-sides.

Harrison, Ark., Jan. 17.—This town has resumed a tranquil appearance after two days of "armed action," in which one man was hanged, another wounded and scores of alleged Missouri and North Arkansas railway strikers started from town to the Missouri state line, accompanied by a "committee of 1,000."

The "committee of 1,000" broke up after holding special sessions behind closed doors for two days and its members are on the way to their respective homes, some of whom came a distance of 100 miles to assist in the roundup. No further trouble is anticipated.

The Arkansas legislature adopted a resolution authorizing Governor McGehee to call out the national guard and declare martial law at Harrison. The resolution states that the state legislature would make all the appropriations necessary. It was said that virtually every striker in Harrison, about 300, had been ejected from the state or placed in jail by the committee.

The body of E. C. Gregor, striking railway shop worker, found hanging from a railway trestle, was taken by relatives to his former home for burial. Gregor, it is said, was hanged after he resisted attempts of the "committee of 1,000," who were seeking to identify persons said to have carried on a campaign of sabotage against the railway company.

Following the hanging of Gregor, George W. O'Neal, hotel proprietor, who is said to have furnished bail for many strikers arrested and charged with sabotage, was taken from his home and severely whipped.

Night Marshal Rasmussen of Harrison, who was accused of being a strike sympathizer, was seized, tied, flogged and ordered to leave town.

A. J. Russell, United States deputy marshal of Fort Smith, spent the day in Harrison investigating the situation. He came here on orders from Attorney General Daugherty. Russell said he would make his report direct to Mr. Daugherty and intimated he would recommend the railway be placed under federal guard.

LEGION OFFICERS INSTALLED TUESDAY

Plans for a supper to be held in conjunction with the next regular meeting of Joseph P. Foody Post, No. 95, American Legion, were discussed at the special meeting held at the Post Hall Tuesday night.

New officers of the Post for the year 1923 were installed at the meeting. Post Commander Jacob Colp opened the meeting and then turned it over to the new Commander, Dr. C. G. McPherson, who made a brief address accepting the responsibilities of the leadership of the Legion, and asked for the co-operation of all members during his term of office.

Meetings are held the second Monday in each month and a supper will be a part of the program at the Feb. meeting.

BASKETBALL STAR TO PLAY IN XENIA

"Babe" Zimmerman, veteran basketball star of Dayton court teams, has been obtained to play with the Famous Autos when the aggregation tangles with Sol Butler's New York Defenders in an inter-racial court classic at the Rink Thursday night.

This announcement was made Wednesday by Julius Solowitz, who plays guard on the Auto aggregation.

Through the agency of the Famous Autos Xenia fans are being able to see some of the court stars whose names figure prominently in the history of the cage game at Dayton, appear on the local floors, but there will probably be no more impressive assemblage here any time this season than that to compose the lineup of the Autos Thursday.

"Biddy" Barlow, "Babe" Zimmerman and Joe Mark will be assigned for alternating duty at the forwards; Harry Solimano, veteran court luminary will be seen at center, and Koester, "Peck" Koehley and Solowitz, will perform at the guards. The Defenders management is also strengthening its lineup for this pastime and it is assured that Winters, formerly of the Chicago Defenders and now with the American Legion team of this city will be seen in action with Butler's team.

Owing to the unusual aspects of the game, fans are anticipating being treated to some of the best basketball to be seen here this season, and spectators are predicting that not more than five points will separate the teams at the end of the game.

THE TROOPS ON THE RHINE NOT AN "ENTANGLEMENT."

Some American functionary formerly connected with one of the costly commissions for a time maintained by the United States in Europe has written a letter to a Senator prominent in the debate on the European situation declaring that our failure to withdraw American troops from the Rhine is not consistent with our "refusal to join an association for the preservation of European peace." No question of joining such an organization as that described has ever been before the American people. We have been asked to sign the war breeding treaty of Versailles and League of Nations covenant, and have had reason to congratulate ourselves on the refusal first of the American Senate and then of the American people to tie us up governmentally with nations which have very clearly shown in the last few months the rank insincerity of their peace professions. The presence of an American police force on the Rhine does not involve us in European politics. The troops are there for a well defined purpose, and no complication has resulted from their occupation of the Coblenz area. On the contrary our little force on the Rhine has served as a restraining influence on the French militarists. But how the politicians who wanted us to guarantee the peace of Europe through a contract to get into every future European war and who were anxious that we should accept a mandate for Armenia involving the necessity of maintaining a huge army in the Near East where the most recent war has been waged—how these preachers of European entanglement are now hypocritically crying out against the presence of our little force on the Rhine!

IS FRANCE ABLE TO "GO IT ALONE."

France is as much in default in her debt to the United States as Germany in her debt to France. Has anyone proposed that we seize Paris or even the French possessions in the West Indies as a means of enforcing payment? It is claimed in behalf of France that she cannot consider the payment of her debt to the United States unless Germany pays the war indemnities. But at the time this money was borrowed France did not know she was to collect an indemnity or that she was to acquire Alsace-Lorraine and vast territorial possessions in Africa as the result of the war. The possibility existed at that time that possibly France might have to be paying indemnities, and certainly never would have been in position to collect any except through the help given by the United States. The French government is adopting a course which is alienating from it the friendship of the American people and of the entire world. It is to be hoped that France feels able to go it alone in world affairs, for her policies are putting her in a position where she will be compelled to do so.

WOULD COST FIFTY BILLIONS.

"President Harding deserves well of a tax-burdened country for his veto of the Bursum pension bill. In his veto message the President estimates that in 50 years the operation of the bill's provisions would cost the country $50,000,000,000, an expenditure to be pondered over, no matter how worthy the object. The Bursum bill is inherently vicious in its loose provisions for pensioning widows of the country's wars from 1882 on to the civil war. It would give a life pension to any woman who had married a veteran prior to June 27, 1915, and a life pension to any woman who marries a veteran at any time, provided he lives for two years. As the President remarks, it is impossible to recognize any public obligation to pension women who now, nearly 60 years after the civil war, become the wives of veterans of that war. To permit such a bill as this to become law would be to put a premium on at least some marriages entered into as a gamble with longevity, prospective "widows" winning a $600 life annuity if they are able to keep their old husbands alive two years. A monthly pension of $50 to such widows would be in shameful contrast to the $24 a month now paid the widows of men who lost their lives in the recent world war."—Public Ledger.

RAIL PEACE SAFER.

A number of the great rail systems that had demanded hearings before the United States Railroad Labor Board on their pleas to reduce wages, eliminate overtime and change working rules have withdrawn these demands. They are negotiating with their own men, and many of them have made agreements with them.

This indicates that for the present, at least, the movement toward the "deflation" of rail labor that brought on the shop strike last summer and came near to causing a general strike in October, 1921, has come to an end. The roads are giving up their purpose of further reducing wages.

This would remove for a year, at least, any threat of a widespread or general rail strike. Roads such as the Pennsylvania, Lackawanna, Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, and New York Central have made terms, and enough of the other great systems are now negotiating to insure rail service for well-nigh half the Nation. While there may be some trouble and possibly a few strikes, such possibilities are not clouding the general optimism.

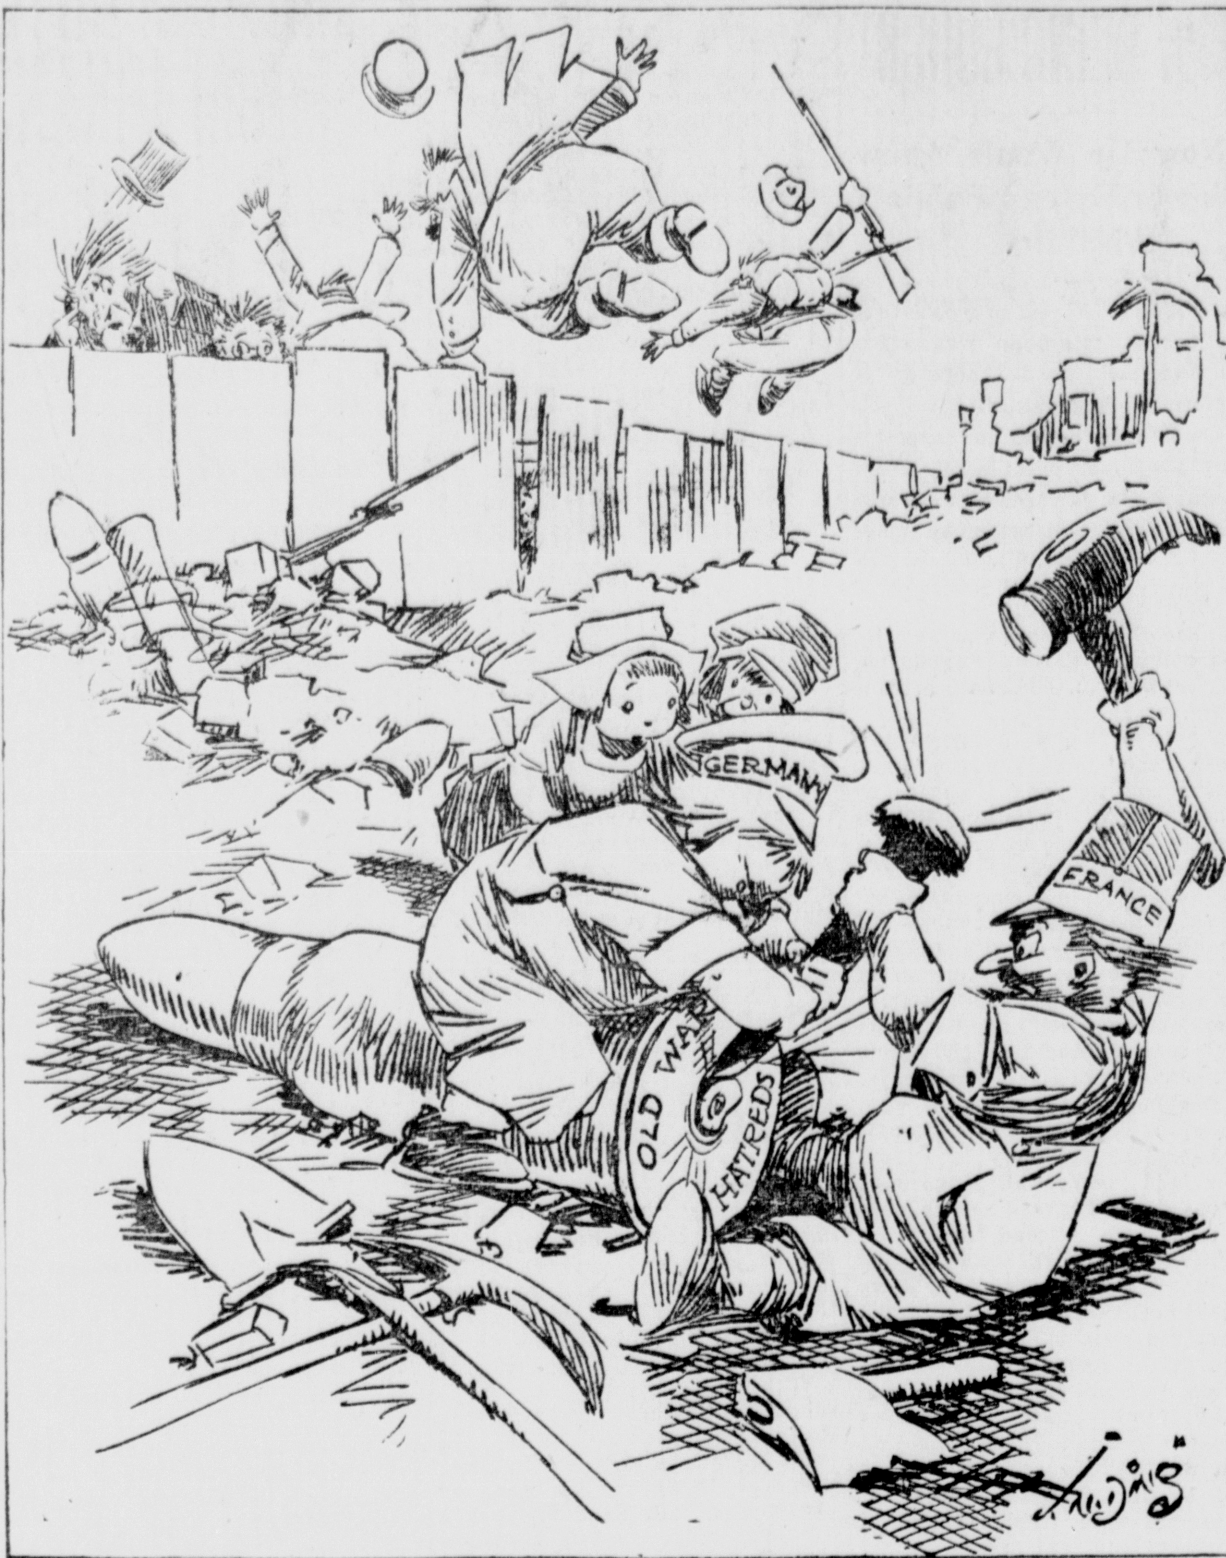

CENT A BRUSH FOR ADS BOOSTS SALES 60-FOLD.

A. C. Fuller, of the Fuller Brush Company, Hartford, Conn., explained to the Poor Richard Club how advertising has helped increase sales of the concern from $200,000 in 1915 to $12,000,000 in 1922. Advertising costs are one cent for every brush sold, he said.

Most of the money which the company spent for this purpose bought space in three magazines of national circulation, but Mr. Fuller said he had obtained "quick and valuable results from newspapers."

The Fuller sales plans include personal canvasses by salesmen, who demonstrate the sixty-nine uses to which the forty-eight types of the company's brushes may be put. The speaker said such a system was more satisfactory than selling indirectly through dealers, as the salesmen naturally take more interest in the brushes than do store clerks.

THE RAIN.

When first the rain began to pour, refreshing dale and dell, I stood and watched it from my door, and blessed it as it fell; there'd been no rain for weary weeks, no swollen cloud developed leaks, drouth stricken men had sent up shrieks for quite a little spell. It rained all day by starts and fits, it made the landscape wet; it made the greatest of all hits, it was the one best bet; but when again the morning broke, and rain was falling as I woke, I said, "This thing's beyond a joke;" it made me fume and fret. Next day the rain was falling still, as though to earn its pay, and torrents rolled adown the hill and washed my fence away; frogs chanted in the dripping dawn and ducks were swimming on the lawn and alligators and their spawn arrived, as though to stay. "This thing," I said, "I cannot bear; it breaks this heart of mine; a written protest I'll prepare, and ask my friends to sign; we'll let the weather makers know they can't abuse their patrons so; they'll make the water cease its flow, and send us something fine." This rain still fell, still getting worse; I grumbled and by-hecked; if only this old universe were run as I'd direct! I'm not consulted as to rain, or snow or drouth or hurricane; I make my protests all in vain, so what can we expect?

Today's Talk

"IT DOETH NOT YET APPEAR" There is the rustle and the hustle and the bustle of the day. Every man and woman—even the child—busy at the string of life.

And then the gray of the closing chapter. The wheels stop. Offices are emptied. Cars, and trains, and hurrying feet—and then home! A little reading, a little playing, a little walk out under the stars and then that brief little trot of ours into dreams and forgetfulness.

Such passing chapters! Almost before we know it, the book is finished.

Just one short year ago, this old year was new—and now we are in a new one! And in just a little while this new one will be old. But there is nothing to worry about and everything to take heart in—for "it doeth not yet appear what we shall be."

Each of us may be building greater and surer than we know.

It is our privilege to do our work and to get happiness out of it. And if we are not getting happiness out of it, we are not doing our work well.

Our duty is to do the job at hand with zest and not mind the results. They will take care of themselves.

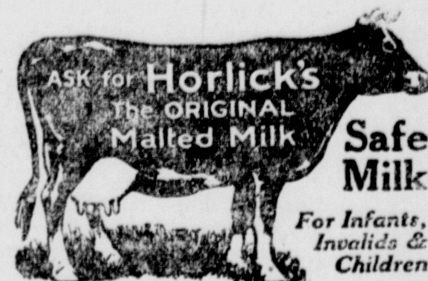

To be thoughtful, efficient, considerate—to ask few questions, to smile through, to believe in ultimate good, and above all to keep faith with the faintest whispering of our honest nature—then what matter if "it doeth not appear what we shall be?"

At the fittest time, the most obscure hero may have his inning.

Your bravest task is to keep fit and ready.

So that when your greatest hour of opportunity does come you won't have to run off and wash your hands before stepping out before the crowd from where you stand, to answer—"ready!"

SERIOUSLY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT AT STATE CAPITAL

Word was received in this city Wednesday morning, that J. M. Dillon, formerly of this city, now of Columbus, had been seriously injured when struck by a machine, while crossing High Street, in Columbus, Tuesday afternoon. He was removed to Grant hospital, following the accident, and had not regained consciousness, Wednesday. Hospital attaches think that concussion of the brain may have resulted. Two nurses, besides the hospital physicians are attending him. Mrs. Dillon remaining at the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Dillon resided in this city several years ago and are well known here.

U. S. IS IRRITATED OVER REPORTS FROM EUROPE ON PLANS

Washington, Jan. 17.—Persistent reports from Paris that the American government has approached the powers with a new plan for settling the reparations controversy led to the positive announcement from the state department today that:

The United States government has not submitted any new plan to the reparations commission, nor does it intend doing so.

High officials of the administration expressed complete mystification and not a little irritation over the press dispatches that reported Colonel R. W. Boyden, laying a "new plan" before the commission.

While expressing complete confidence in Col. Boyden's ability and fitness to represent the United States on the reparations commission it was nevertheless apparent today that the state department is profoundly disturbed over cable reports of Col. Boyden's activities in Paris. This was exemplified by the report made by a high official to a question concerning Boyden's reported plan.

HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE NEAR PORT WILLIAM, OHIO

The two story residence of Charles Linkhart, about a mile and a half from Port William, burned about 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

The fire started from some unknown source and was not noticed until a neighbor phoned the Linkhart home telling them that the roof was burning. Every effort was made to save the house and contents but the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to remove the furniture.

The house and furnishings were covered partly by insurance in the Ohio Farmers Insurance Company.

CATTLE BITTEN BY MAD DOG

Leetonia, O., Jan. 17.—C. G. Wilgeron, dairyman living a mile south of here, said that his entire herd of Guernsey cattle, valued at $100,000, is imperiled by hydrophobia as the result of bites from his dog, which recently became afflicted with rabies. Six head of cattle, valued at $4,000, already have been shot.

COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN IS LAUNCHED TUES DAY NIGHT WITH SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE BANQUET

The Community Chest Campaign in Xenia City, with a goal of $8,000, was launched at the annual meeting and banquet of the Social Service League, at the Knights of Pythias Castle, Tuesday night. Marked enthusiasm and confidence in the success of the undertaking was manifested at the meeting, which was attended by about 150 people, representatives of the various organizations of the city, and patrons of charitable work in Xenia.

Dr. H. S. Macayael, of Akron, former director of the State Department of Public Welfare was the principal speaker of the evening. His talk struck a key-note for success in the coming campaign. Dr. Macayael was introduced by Dr. B. R. McClellan, chairman of the meeting, and held the interest of the audience during the larger part of the evening.

"Just so long as you consider the affairs of state and nation to be an economic problem, you will get deeper and deeper into that problem which will become unsolvable. You must consider it as a problem of humanity," said the speaker. "People think too much of mechanics in solving today's problems, when really the problem of humanity is humanity itself."

Pedigreed People

"God has always been good to a pedigreed people, which has been proven in the early history of Xenia. We believe that by machinery and inventions we can make things what they should be, you can't do it, you must have people that are of a pedigreed breed, those who have always marked the way of progress," declared Dr. Macayael.

"Xenia was well born and reared because her people were a pedigreed people, springing from a Scottish settlement, and organized by picked persons."

The Jews are the only people on the face of the earth, today, who have survived the thousands of years of persecution, because they have kept themselves a proud people, apart from the scum.

"The moral passion that led our men to fight in the Civil War, has been lost, leading to the failure of the 13th amendment. With one amendment trampled underfoot, that for which our men fought for in the Civil War, how can we expect to keep the 13th amendment? It is idle to talk of the majesty of the law today!"

Moral Fibre Necessary

"The prophecy of the future depends on the moral fibre of today's citizenship," Dr. Macayael dwelt on the trend of foreigners of America's shores, and the stupendous problems that that influx is causing, urging a weeding out of the "scum," thus saving the nation's level of humanity.

"For Xenia to improve her economic and human problems, she must hold the light of the past, and a view of the future, and build her ideal on the right kind of people," the speaker declared. "You can't build an edifice of humanity on mud-sills," was his statement.

"The people of the nation are losing faith and breaking the restraints of our fathers' religion. We should all get back of a movement to promote humanity, and to solve this problem, five necessary fundamentals must be considered: first, a weeding out of a class that is below the standard, and stopping their spread, by segregating them; second, giving poverty an opportunity of making its own way; third, a school in every community, for backward children, so that they may be trained to be useful citizens; fourth, an effort to give every unfortunate and handicapped child a chance in life; fifth, a blotting out of diseases that would otherwise become epidemics."

BALLOT NOT FOR MOB.

The ballot was looked upon by Dr. Macayael as "The most delicate instrument," to be placed in the hands of citizens. Proof has been found that the ballot cannot be trusted with certain classes of people, and for that reason it's use should, according to the speaker be limited instead of being given to the mob. "The mob will want its own kind in the chairs of state, if allowed to exercise the use of the ballot," he stated. "The Lord deliver us from the politician," declared the speaker.

Dr. Macayael's address was followed by a report of the Nominating Committee of the Social Service League Board, given by T. H. Zell. The following names were submitted by the committee as members of the League Board: President, Dr. V. F. Brown; vice presidents, Dr. B. R. McClellan, Mrs. C. H. Little, Mrs. J. B. Carruthers, Mrs. Homer L. Sayre, Miss Clara Marshall, Mrs. Emma McCalmont, the Rev. R. E. Holmes, Mrs. M. L. Wolf, Mrs. C. W. Linkhart, Miss Bertha Trebein, and J. Kenneth Williamson; recording secretary, Miss Charlie Santmyer; associated recording secretary, Miss Edith Fawcett; treasurer, F. F. Keyes. The Nominating Committee was composed of Miss Margaret Moorehead, Mrs. T. D. Kyle and T. H. Zell.

GIVE BRIEF REPORTS.

Mrs. Carrie L. Robertson, executive secretary of the Social Service League, and Mrs. Margaret Kelley, public health nurse of the league, gave brief reports of their year's work. Miss Mildred Prugh, chairman of the sale of Christmas seals in the county reported that $700.65 had been raised in the drive in Xenia city; $547.15 in the townships of the county, making a total of $1,247.80, with an expense account of $87.1. Twenty per cent of the amount will be forwarded to the Ohio Public Health Association, eighty per cent to remain in Greene County, to be handled through the Social Service League, in combat-

F. F. Keyes, treasurer of the Social Service League, gave a complete year's financial report.

Pamphlets have been issued by the League, explaining the work of the organization, and giving a complete financial report for the year.

Karl B. Bloom, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the Community Chest Drive, outlined the plans for the coming campaign, and explained the division of funds among the various organizations of the city. The solicitation for funds began Wednesday morning, a city-wide corps of solicitors being enlisted to carry on the work. Mr. Bloom made a plea for support, and expressed confidence in winning the goal of $8,000 in the campaign.

ATTENDS MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS

H. A. Higgins, representative of the Old Dominion Mortgage Company, and a number of Greene County stockholders of the company, attended the stockholders meeting in Dayton Tuesday night.

Officials, managers and board members attended a dinner at the Gibbons hotel, and later met with the stockholders at the office of Kimmel and Prehafer, Montgomery County agents for the company.

The president, sales manager and other company officials were present and addressed the gathering and a report of the company's operations for the year 1922 was given, after which a plan for a three-months' sales campaign was announced. A number of Xenia people attended the meeting.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. adv

"Give me 80 miles of gas"

If gas could be bought on a mile-per-gallon basis, how differently the motorist would select his fuel. "Give me 80 miles of gas." Sounds funny but that's practically what it amounts to. You pay so much for so much gas and expect a certain mileage in return.

If you will measure the mileage cost per gallon on Columbus Gasoline you'll become a steady Columbus customer. Thousands of motorists use only pure Columbus Gasoline. Try it for more mileage, better pickup, more power, smoother running.

They say I looked like dead and guess I had a pretty close shave. I had been having more or less stomach trouble and bloating with gas for past two years and could get no permanent help. Talking with a friend about my attack, he advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I have not had any gas or stomach trouble since taking it eighteen months ago." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. MARRIAGE TOPIC OF CHURCH SERMON BY LOCAL PASTOR

"Whatever is at war with marriage is at war with the religion of Christ. People who think to improve upon it only dishonor God and themselves."

Taking for his text, John 2:1-2, concerning the presence of Jesus at the wedding in Galilee, the Rev. B. B. Uhl, pastor of the First Lutheran Church delivered a forceful sermon at the Sunday morning service of the church. Believing that "God's sanction is upon this sacred ordinance, as a rebuke against a false holiness," the Rev. B. B. Uhl took his topic for a sermon that was well received by members of the congregation.

"God's sanction is seen from the prominence He has given to this ordinance, not only as the first ordinance of God for man, but Christ began the establishment of His religion by recognition of this institution. The fact is, Christianity was begun as guardian and benefactor of the home, as the unit of society. Where marriage is entered into 'reverently and discreetly' and in the fear of God, the Savior's sanction and blessing always go with it."

"We are taught in the Bible about the relation of social life to Christianity. It teaches us that Christianity is a social and joyous religion that God loves a smile better than a frown; laughter better than a groan; joy better than sorrow. Of course, when trials or sorrows come, we should bear them patiently, but Christ does not want us to be miserable, for the sake of being so. There is nothing sanctifying in misery, in and of itself. We cannot believe that an austere and Puritanic religion is a true expression of the religion which Christ taught, or exemplified."

"Christianity is for seasons of festivity and joy, as well as for periods of pain, grief and depression. Here is where many people grievously err. When they are happy and prosperous, they feel no need of Christ's presence, and care little about having Him in their company. There is no earthly happiness so happy, but what Christ's presence can make it happier."

"They, who seek to have Him at their weddings and other social functions, can count more confidently on Him in their sufferings, and at their deathbeds. It is a most grievous error to conceive religion interfering with our friendships, or our comforts, or enjoyments. True purity is itself a marriage; a happy joining of the soul to its proper Head and Benefactor, in whose fellowship lies its sublimest happiness."

NEW JASPER

Quite a number of persons are laid up with grip in this community.

Mr. Dan Turner was a Dayton visitor, over Sunday.

Mr. Oscar Finley and family, of Xenia, moved into the Clay Swogger property.

Mr. Raymond Pickering, who lived on one of Dr. Davis' farms for the past several years, has moved to one of Mr. Hiram Fawcett's farms.

Mr. Roy Matthews, prominent stock buyer, bought Mrs. Hattie Smith's place, and will move there in a few weeks.

The boys gave Mr. Eber Allen an old-fashioned bell on Tuesday evening. He was quietly married to Miss Inez Golings, of Octa, before Christmas. He set up the candy and cigars to the crowd. They have the best wishes of the community.

Mr. John Caster, of Sabina, is the week end guest of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Caster.

Mrs. Bessie Robinson, wife of Rev. J. B. Robinson, who went to Florida, last summer, for her health, died last week. Rev. Robinson was pastor here three years ago.

Mrs. Rose Hite, who was taken to the McClellan hospital, for treatment, is not expected to recover.

SPRING VALLEY

There is almost an epidemic of grip in the village now.

Mrs. Jenks' piano pupils gave a recital at Mrs. Eagles' Saturday.

BRINGING UP FATHER

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

You cannot eat your cake and have it. So the cautious wise ones wail.

But I shall eat mine willy-nilly. Otherwise it might get stale.

The Farmers' Institute will be held in the Town Hall Monday and Tuesday.

The next number of the lecture course, The Moore's Entertainers, which was to have been given Tuesday evening, Jan. 16 has been postponed on account of sickness.

Miss Norma Knee is ill of congestion of the lungs.

The congregation of the M. E. Church is holding cottage prayer meetings now on the regular prayer meeting night, Thursday.

The Ladies of the Friends Church who held a market in Xenia Saturday were well pleased with their success.

NEW BURLINGTON

B. H. Miller, our butcher, has been confined to his house for several days with an attack of the grip. Horace Compton has been in charge of the meat shop during his illness.

Miss Nellie Dunlap, of Zoar, spent the week with her sister, Mrs. B. H. Miller and family.

Mrs. Frank Stanley, who fell from a ladder, last fall, and broke the bones of her left limb, is slowly improving and able to get about the house with the aid of crutches.

A series of evangelistic services are expected to begin at the Friends' church, Sunday evening, January 21, in charge of Miss Bertha Day, pastor of Jamestown Friends' church.

Arnold McKay, of near Oregonia, who is executive secretary of the Wilmington Yearly Meeting, was present at the morning services at the Friends' Church, Sunday, and preached.

Quite a number are sick with the grip. Mrs. Daisy Haines, Mrs. Justus Reeves, Mrs. Wm. Chenoweth, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Foland and Mildred Carr are among the number.

Protracted meetings will continue this week at the M. E. church, with the pastor, Rev. Ballenger in charge.

William Moon, who was injured by a tree falling on his limb, and breaking it, about eight weeks ago, is not improving very rapidly, the break being quite a serious one.

New Reader: "Can you give me a recipe for a luncheon dish made of baked grapefruit?"

Answer: Welcome to the column! I am glad to give you this recipe: Economical Grapefruit Dish: Put one quart of sweet milk into a medium-size baking dish and stir into it one-half cup of sugar, two cups of uncooked grapefruit and one well-beaten egg. Bake 20 minutes in a hot oven and serve either hot or cold. This dish is semi-sweet. If, however, you wish to use it as a dessert, add more sugar and serve it with a hot lemon sauce.

Mrs. P. C.: "Can I dye brown flannel a navy blue?"

Answer: I am afraid not. I would not try it if I were you.

Two Reader Friends: "Will you please publish recipes for Sour Dough Bread and Sour Dough Biscuits?"

Answer: As I do not happen to have these recipes, I am going to ask some of our readers who have them, to send them to me so that I can publish them here for you.

Mrs. B.: "How can I clean velvet flowers?"

Answer: With either gasoline, benzine or naphtha applied with a small brush. Do not use these liquids near heat or flame.

Daily Reader: "Not long ago one of your readers mentioned having fish stains on her baby's white dress. I have had good results in removing fish stains from linen by putting the cloth immediately in table salt and cold water."

Answer: Thank you, Reader Friend. There is always somebody ready to "lend a hand."

Club Member: "When we invite the public to one of our open meetings I often see strangers standing alone, with nobody talking to them. This is not a right state of affairs. Can you suggest a means by which everybody present would enter into conversation with somebody else?"

Answer: "Why couldn't you have bits of different colored ribbons in a basket, each ribbon with a pin through it, and ask everyone present to step up to the basket and select a ribbon to pin on herself; then announce that every woman is to chat only with the people who wear her own color; in this way, all those wearing blue will gather together, all wearing white will chat together, and so on, and this will insure the enjoyment of all."

SEEK METEOR IN ROSS COUNTY AFTER REPORT

Chillicothe, Jan. 17.—A meteor, which is said to have fallen near here shaking part of the city, is now being sought in the outskirts.

Two workmen declare the fire-tailed visitor landed near where they were at work, frightening them almost out of their wits. It is believed the meteor exploded over the city, and that the meteor seen plunging to earth within the city was a fragment of the main body.

Chapters From A Woman's Life

BY JANE PHELPS

MRS. PAGE FINDS VASHTI CHARMING Chapter 80.

Miss Vernon is going to let me paint her portrait!" Walter gleefully announced, "and I hope to persuade her to pose for a picture I have in mind."

"She is certainly a lovely creature," his mother said. "And her manners are quite charming. She shows a deference to age, I haven't observed in some of your friends. I was quite charmed with her."

It was rather comical Mrs. Page, after her warning to me, talking in that way, yet I felt like groaning. Because of Miss Vernon's tact, her dainty ways Walter's mother would overlook an intimacy with her, she would not think of condoning in a professional model.

Mrs. Page had tried to lessen Helen Ralston's influence over Walter, she would increase that of Miss Vernon by her praise.

"Don't cross bridges until you come to them," an old saying of my father's occurred to me. But I had seen Walter's delight in her in the South—turned away for a bit by Daisy Borden, it is true, but now returned in full degree, I could tell by his enthusiasm. I listened without comment to Walter's talk of her, but he did not notice my silence.

He never did when he was talking of pictures. He was to call at her hotel to discuss the sort of gown she would wear for her portrait, and so on.

"Red velvet, I think," he chattered. "A deep American beauty rose shade. It would set off her hair and eyes. Nothing else would. It would be ravishing on her cut décolleté without sleeves."

I should not have thought of denying Vashti Vernon's beauty, but it isn't very pleasant to sit and hear one's husband talk so enthusiastically about another woman's physical charms. It often seemed to me it would not be so hard to bear if it was a woman's mind he admired, her intellectuality.

Yet now I know it would have been a far more dangerous admiration, than that of the merely physical beauty of the woman who sat for him.

But one doesn't reason when jealous one only suffers. Especially if, as I did, they hide the jealousy in their hearts instead of giving it expression. This was the mood I was in when Vashti Vernon began her sittings with Walter. Not one that promised me either happiness or comfort.

What a wonderful thing the love of a child is to a mother! Little Jack with his sweet ways, his caresses, his tiny hands on my face often brushed away my unhappy thoughts made me forget things it was unwise to remember.

At times, it seemed that Mrs. Page was envious of my boy's affection for me, although he loved her.

She would call him away when he was particularly affectionate, as if the sight somehow hurt her. At first I smiled at the idea, but gradually it became more noticeable, even Jennie observed and spoke of it.

"She acts as if he was her baby!" Jennie declared. "I never had been able to break her of speaking of Mrs. Page as 'she.'"

"Oh, no! Mrs. Page loves him dearly, Jennie," I replied. "She is very good to him. I feel so safe when he is with her."

"She loves him all right! But she'd like it if he didn't love you so much. I ain't blind, and I see the way she looks at you when you are playing with him."

I laughed at Jennie, yet I knew she was right. Mrs. Page, Jack's grandmother resented his greater affection for me, his mother. She lavished the most expensive toys upon him, never went out that she did not bring him something. Often things I could not have afforded. Childlike he soon recognized her generosity, and would run to her asking what she had brought him.

"You'll spoil him," I told her.

"That's my right," she answered in her hardest manner. "He's my grandson."

I wanted to say: "He's my son," but when she spoke in that tone I had learned to keep still.

But I was annoyed by her attitude, the while I tried to reason that it was but natural she should indulge him, when she could so well afford it. Mostly, however, I thought it bad for Jack. He tired of everything so quickly; was ready to throw aside the toy of a day for another, newer one, losing interest in these he had. One day I strung a lot of empty spoons for him, and called Mrs. Page's attention that he played with them longer than he did the extravagant and expensive toys she bought him. But my little ruse had no effect, save to annoy her.

VALUABLE PEARL NECKLACE UNEARTHED IN OHIO MOUND

Chillicothe, Jan. 17.—A fresh water pearl necklace worth $15,000, was unearthed last summer in a Hopewell mound by the excavating expedition of Ohio State Archeological and Historical Society. The news was kept secret and recently leaked out.

The necklace contains nearly three hundred freshwater pearls, graduated in size from a marble to a bb-shot. Several pearls are perfect in shape, as if they had been polished, the others are imperfectly formed. Dr. Mills, curator of the archeological museum in Columbus was recently offered $15,000 for the string that measures four feet in length. "This necklace belongs to the state of Ohio, however," says Dr. Mills, "and cannot be sold. It is the finest necklace that has ever been found among the moundbuilder relics." Because of its priceless worth as a relic of primitive man in Ohio, the necklace is kept in the vault of the museum and few people know of its existence.
